JOURNAL OF THE SENATE
NINETIETH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE
STATE OF MISSOURI
FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FIRST DAY--WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 6, 1999

The Senate was called to order at 12:00 noon by Lieutenant Governor Roger Wilson.

Gracious and heavenly Father: We begin a new session in this place familiar to most, new to some of us, but a place of awe and responsibility nonetheless. We pray that You will be present and give these Senators and their leadership Your Spirit to guide them through the decisions that must be made. Let the words of Your prophet Micah guide their thinking and actions that each day they will do what You, our God, requires"...to do justice, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with (You) their God." (Micah 6:8) This we ask in Your Name. Amen.

Opening Address

January 6, 1999

Ladies and gentlemen, Lt. Governor Wilson, Judge Scott Wright, Judge Byron Kinder, distinguished guests, fellow Senators, friends and family members... I would like to welcome each of you to the opening of the First Regular Session of the 90th Missouri General Assembly.

It gives me great pleasure to welcome back my old friends and colleagues... and to be joined by our new colleagues... Senator Mary Bland, Senator Steve Stoll and Senator Sarah Steelman... I know how special this day is for you.

I want to personally congratulate you... and ask my fellow Senators and everyone in the gallery to rise and join me in welcoming these three new members of the Missouri Senate.

This is also a very special day for me... Thank you for allowing me the opportunity... and the honor... of serving as your President Pro Tem.

At this time, I would like to introduce some people who mean a great deal to me... and I would like for them to stand.

My wife, Jane

My aunt, Nancy Swanson

My sister, Elsie Thompson

My son Brent, his wife Shari and my granddaughters, Katie and Tiffany

My son Mark, and his friend Michelle and my granddaughter, Morgan

My daughter Rebecca, her husband Mike and my grandson, Nathan and granddaughter, Marley

All the way from New York, my wife's parents, Ben and Muriel Sokobin, and my sister-in-law, Barbara Horowitz.

The Missouri Senate is an institution - - and a family - - which is rich with tradition and service to this state and its people.

It has been my privilege to serve the people of Missouri while in the Senate... And now, I consider it a great privilege to also SERVE the Senate.

During my 14 years here... I have had the good fortune to serve under the leadership of Senators who have led us in the direction of a better and brighter Missouri.

Using their leadership and hard work as my model... and in the tradition of service that is the trademark of the Missouri Senate... I would like to make my commitment to you... to be fair... to be honest... and most of all... to help create an atmosphere where listening and respecting one another takes priority.

This 34 member body... the Missouri Senate... comes together each year for the purpose of making Missouri a better place to live and do business.

Each Senator brings their own values... experiences... and points of view... That is the beauty of our system... We have representatives from all different segments of our society... and diverse areas of the state.

We meet on this common ground to do the very best we can... for the people who sent us here to represent them.

Each of us has had to travel on many different roads in order to be here today... These experiences have molded the foundations for our beliefs... our opinions... and how we are able to come together to solve problems.

I have traveled on a few roads myself... and frankly, I am overwhelmed right now... with my good fortune to be standing before you today.

I can remember in the winter of 1940... leaving Rich Hill, Mo., with my family... for a migrant tent camp in Bakersfield, California... I returned to Missouri one year later.

At the age of thirteen I was working in a coal mine in Higginsville... and at fifteen in a shoe factory... One year later I found myself making 100's of strawberry shortcakes at the Forum Cafeteria... Following in the footsteps of my childhood hero, my Uncle Marty... I enlisted in the Navy at seventeen... and was off to Korea.

In 1960, I had the opportunity to join the Kansas City, Missouri Fire Department... I can tell you that next to being a state Senator... being a firefighter was the proudest time of my life.

Politics was not something that I thought a lot about... and I certainly never thought about being an elected official... However, in 1975... I became angry because I felt that my neighborhood... was being unfairly taxed for a road improvement.

So I ran for the Kansas City City Council... just to straighten a few things out... In 1984... I decided to run for the Missouri Senate... Here it is 1999... and I'm still trying to straighten out a few things.

I have always been grateful... for all the opportunities that this country has afforded me... And I thank God for the strength... and the ability... I was given and taught.

Because of my life experiences... I learned determination... desire... strength... compassion... and a stubbornness to make life better for myself and my family.

I am so fortunate to be able to work within these walls... and with all of you... to help make life better for all the people in the state of Missouri.

Today we begin the First Regular Session of the 90th Missouri General Assembly... It is the first of the last... This will be the first session of the last General Assembly of this century and this millennium.

1998 brought with it many disappointments and much pain to this country... However, in Missouri... it brought much to be proud of.

Together... we've accomplished so much!

Together... we've cut taxes... and improved services!

Together... we've provided the opportunity... to have health insurance... for over 90,000 children of working families!

Together... we've cracked down on drug dealers!

Together... we've helped families... by increasing tax deductions for dependents 300 percent!

Together... we've helped our older citizens... with their property taxes... and helped our youngest citizens... by establishing new early childhood education opportunities.

Together... we gave tax refunds to our citizens.

Each one of these accomplishments... started as a simple idea.

Almost every idea... is a good idea to someone... It is our responsibility to determine which ideas are best for everyone.

We had a great year last year... perhaps as good as any Senate... in this state's history.

But, I'll tell you right now, this Senate... will not rest on its accomplishments!

We face the future of this state... on behalf of the citizens who elected us... and gave us the honor of being here... We have work to do!

We must review the tobacco settlement... the largest civil action... in America's history.

We will have to work with the courts to determine... how much will be allowed to be used... to best benefit all Missourians.

We must work to improve... the opportunities our children have to learn... We must continue... to make educating the children of Missouri... our priority.

We face an ever-increasing burden... on our corrections system... If we are to continue... providing the citizens the protection they deserve... we must formulate a method of change.

One of our greatest responsibilities... is the spending of taxpayer dollars... The Appropriations Committee... and I... will be looking at new ways... to evaluate the allocation process of funding budget requests.

We will face no shortage of issues... in the session that begins today. From the salary commission to the transportation issue... from the deregulation of utilities to cutting taxes... a tremendous amount of work lies ahead.

As these issues... and many others... come before us... each of us approaching the issue from their own perspective and background... I know that after all the yelling... and maybe even a few tears... we will be able to resolve these issues... with the same sense of fairness and respect we have shown in the past.

This has been a difficult... and painful time in our country... I ask myself... what can we learn from these tragic events that have created... an uncompromising... divisive... partisanship in our government?

Though all the answers to that question... are not apparent yet... I do know we MUST work toward healing our wounds... and return to our promise... of a truly representative democracy.

A democracy... that serves the best interests of its citizens... and not the interests of those that serve!

A few weeks ago... I read an inscription on a monument... dedicated to Samuel Gompers... the founder of the AFL-CIO... I believe the inscription reflects the views of Missouri citizens. It reads:

We want more schoolhouses... and less jails.

More books... and less guns.

More learning... and less vice.

More leisure... and less greed.

More justice... and less revenge.

We want more opportunities... to cultivate our better nature.

The elections are behind us... I challenge each one of you... to rise above the partisanship... We are the Missouri Senate! We MUST dedicate ourselves to the purpose for which we were elected.

Thank you.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 1

WHEREAS, one hundred fifty years have now passed since the greatest tragedy in Irish history occurred: The Great Irish Famine, also known as An Gorta Mor, the Great Starvation, the Great Hunger, the Irish Potato Blight, the Potato Famine, and the Great Irish Hunger; and

WHEREAS, this catastrophic five-year period between 1845 and 1850 in which millions of Irish people perished or emigrated was due to mass starvation precipitated by a recurring potato crop failure and worsened by acts of the British government which ignored the plight of the people; and

WHEREAS, the thousands upon thousands of bodies which required burial in a short period of time necessitated creation of the "sliding coffin", a hinged coffin which was used to transport the deceased to the graveyard where it would be placed over a huge pit, its bottom would drop, and the victim would fall into the common grave below; and

WHEREAS, Ireland lost nearly one half of its population during this dreadful famine, a catastrophe of astronomic proportions which needs to be examined and discussed in the public schools of Missouri in an effort to reaffirm the commitment of free people of all nations to eradicate the causes of famine that exist in the modern world and to engender an appreciation for Irish Americans; and

WHEREAS, many of the Irish immigrated to the Show-Me State where they distinguished themselves by their great contributions to the formation of Missouri, a long list of remarkable individuals which includes Joseph Charles who in 1808 founded the first newspaper west of the Mississippi River, the Missouri Gazette; and

WHEREAS, it would be in the best interests of the Missouri's public school students for the State Board of Education to prepare and make available to all school boards instructional materials that can be used as guidelines for the development of a unit of instruction on the Irish Famine:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate of the Ninetieth General Assembly, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby join unanimously in expressing our support of the inclusion of a unit of instruction studying the causes and effects of mass starvation in mid-nineteenth century Ireland in every public elementary school and high school curriculum in Missouri; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education.

Senators Goode, Childers, Clay, Flotron, Mathewson, Kinder and Schneider offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 2

WHEREAS, telecommunications services and energy services and sources are vital to the economic vitality and well-being of the state of Missouri; and

WHEREAS, there is a nationwide trend toward deregulation of telecommunications services and energy services and sources which may create competitive markets and make available new services and customer choices; and

WHEREAS, the state and political subdivisions have imposed taxes, fees and other assessments on various telecommunications and energy services, and such taxes vary widely based upon locality and, within a locality, such taxes may vary widely between increasingly related and competitive services, such as telephone and cable television; and

WHEREAS, there is currently a nationwide trend toward competition in the production, distribution and sale of energy, including electricity, natural gas and other energy sources, and this trend has both potential benefits and potential adverse effects on energy producers, distributors, retailers, customers and the citizens of this state; and

WHEREAS, ensuring adequate and affordable telecommunications services and energy services and sources will necessitate a fair and equitable structure of taxes across different telecommunications and energy services and across different regions of the state; and

WHEREAS, the issue of whether governmental entities should expend public resources to compete with private tele-communications and energy entities should be explored; and

WHEREAS, a Joint Interim Committee on Telecommuni-cations and Energy has studied the above-mentioned issues during the tenure of the Eighty-ninth General Assembly and recommends that a similar study committee be established to such study during the tenure of the Ninetieth General Assembly;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate of the Ninetieth General Assembly, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that a joint legislative study committee of the General Assembly be created to be composed of seven members of the Senate, to be appointed by the President Pro Tem of the Senate, and seven members of the House of Representatives, to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, and that said committee be authorized to function throughout the Ninetieth General Assembly; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that said committee conduct an in-depth study and make appropriate recommendations concerning financial, legal, social, taxation, environmental, technological and economic issues of telecommunications and energy services taxation, competition between governmental entities and private telecommunication entities, and any other issues the committee deems relevant; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that said committee conduct an in-depth study and make appropriate recommendations concerning financial, legal, social, taxation, environmental, technological and economic issues of deregulation and increasing competition in energy production, distribution and sale including consideration of the effects on residential customers, small business customers, large business customers, utility shareholders and other stakeholders and any other issues the committee deems relevant; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the committee prepare an interim report, together with its recommendations for any legislative action it deems necessary for submission to the General Assembly prior to the commencement of the Second Regular Session of the Ninetieth General Assembly and a final report, together with its recommendations for any legislative action it deems necessary for submission to the General Assembly prior to the commencement of the First Regular Session of the Ninety-First General Assembly; and

Senators Ehlmann and Klarich offered the following concurrent resolution, which was read:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 3

WHEREAS, the federal Clean Air Act, as amended, requires the United States Environmental Protection Agency to establish National Ambient Air Quality Standards; and

WHEREAS, the St. Louis metropolitan area is currently designated as a nonattainment area with regard to the National Ambient Air Quality Standard for low-level atmospheric ozone; and

WHEREAS, the General Assembly has devoted considerable effort and attention during the last five years to authorizing air pollution control measures needed to improve air quality in the St. Louis nonattainment area, including the enactment of SB 590 from 1994 which authorizes an enhanced motor vehicle emissions inspection and maintenance program; and

WHEREAS, the Department of Natural Resources is currently implementing the enhanced motor vehicle emissions inspection and maintenance program, a key component of the comprehensive State Implementation Plan designed to bring the area into attainment of the National Ambient Air Quality Standards; and

WHEREAS, the Sierra Club and the Missouri Coalition for the Environment filed suit on November 12, 1998 in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia to: compel the United States Environmental Protection Agency to redesignate St. Louis as a "serious" non-attainment area; require the state to submit a new State Implementation Plan which includes all the air pollution reduction measures required for serious nonattainment areas; postpone approval of any Transportation Implementation Plan until the new State Implementation Plan has been approved; and impose the "emissions offset" penalty and the loss of highway funding penalty on the St. Louis nonattainment area; and

WHEREAS, the state's flexibility in choosing appropriate air pollution measures will be impaired by reclassification of the St. Louis nonattainment area as "serious" with the attendant increase the mandatory reduction measures; and

WHEREAS, the emissions offset penalty will require any new business or industry which seeks to locate in the St. Louis area to arrange for reduction of air emissions from existing sources which is greater than the emissions the new business or industry will make, thereby significantly hampering or perhaps eliminating the siting of new businesses or industries in the area, thereby undermining the area economy; and

WHEREAS, the loss of federal highway funding for the St. Louis area will cripple the state's ability to maintain needed roadways and to create new transportation facilities, which may lead to greater traffic congestion, worsening the air quality problems in the area;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate of the Ninetieth General Assembly, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that Governor Mel Carnahan is hereby urged to immediately seek to intervene in this federal litigation, to support the defendant in this litigation which would enable the defendant to continue to implement the federal Clean Air Act in a manner which properly serves the interests of society to protect public health and the environment while encouraging economic growth and development; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Attorney General is urged to provide any and all necessary legal assistance to the Department of Natural Resources to initiate and sustain any such intervention;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to provide properly inscribed copies of this resolution to the Governor, the Director of the Department of Natural Resources and the Attorney General.

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 54

WHEREAS, the members of the Missouri Senate have been deeply pleased to learn that on Thursday, January 14th, the Jackson County Parks and Recreation Department will conduct a ceremony at 3:30 p.m. at which the Longview Golf Course will be renamed the Fred Arbanas Longview Golf Course; and

WHEREAS, the ceremony is in honor of one of the greatest and deserving citizens in the history of Jackson County, the Honorable Fred Arbanas; and

WHEREAS, Fred Arbanas has served continuously as a member of the Jackson County Legislature since its inception in 1974, taking the place under the county charter of the old Jackson County Court, and has just taken the oath of office for his eighth term; and

WHEREAS, prior to entering elective political office, Fred Arbanas was a professional athlete and an All-Star player for the Kansas City Chiefs, being elected after his retirement to the Kansas City Chiefs Hall of Fame; and

WHEREAS, during twenty six years as a member of the Jackson County Legislature, Fred Arbanas, has stood for the highest standards of honesty, faithful attention to duty, truthfulness with the people, efficiency and good government; and

WHEREAS, in addition to the numerous civic and community projects he has championed, Fred Arbanas has taken a particular interest in the Jackson County Parks and Recreation Department to make parks, lakes and recreation facilities available to all citizens, young and old; and

WHEREAS, under the watchful supervision of Fred Arbanas in cooperation with then County Executive Bill Waris and the late, great Alex George, a fabulous golf course, Longview, second to none, was developed along the shores of the newly created Longview Lake, creating one of the greatest public recreational complexes, not just in Missouri, but in the entire Midwest; and

WHEREAS, it is truly fitting that the government of Jackson County now rename the golf course the Fred Arbanas Longview Golf Course in honor of a great Jackson Countian and a great American;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, pause in their deliberations to salute the outstanding accomplishments of Fred Arbanas, express congratulations on the honor of having Longview golf course renamed for him, and extend to Fred Arbanas and all his family our best wishes for many long years continued success, good health and happiness; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for Fred Arbanas, Jackson County Legislature, Fred Arbanas Longview Golf Course and the Honorable Bill Waris.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Russell offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 4

WHEREAS, United Nations Ambassador Peter Burleigh signed the Kyoto Protocol on behalf of the United States this last December; and

WHEREAS, the United States has agreed to reduce greenhouse gas emissions seven percent below 1990 levels in just twelve years; and

WHEREAS, if the Global Climate Treaty is ratified by a two-thirds majority of the United States Senate, over one hundred countries with whom the United States directly competes for international markets, including Mexico, China, India and Argentina, would be totally exempt from the greenhouse gas requirements in the treaty; and

WHEREAS, there appears to be no agreement among the scientific community that human greenhouse gas emissions cause global warming, and scientists at the Oregon Institute of Science and Medicine state: "There is not a shred of persuasive evidence that humans have been responsible for increasing global temperatures."; and

WHEREAS, if the United States Senate ratifies the Global Climate Treaty, studies estimate that legally binding requirements for the reduction of United States greenhouse gases below 1990 emission levels would result in the loss of more than 2.4 million jobs, including the potential loss of nearly fifty thousand Missouri jobs; and

WHEREAS, these same estimates show the requirements would likely result in sharply increased prices for natural gas, propane, gasoline and diesel fuel, and in higher food prices as the result of new restrictions on farmers; and

WHEREAS, despite the federal administration signing the treaty, the Constitution requires the Senate to first debate the issue then vote "yes" or "no" on ratification before it becomes a formal United States treaty; and

WHEREAS, Congress has not conducted a national discussion on the Kyoto Protocol:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate of the Ninetieth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge the United States Senate, our Missouri Senators in particular, to hold a national discussion on the Kyoto Protocol and not to ratify the Global Climate Treaty signed in Kyoto, Japan; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States, the United States Senate and each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

The Joint Committee appointed to wait upon the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Duane Benton, escorted the Chief Justice to the dais where he delivered the State of the Judiciary Address to the Joint Assembly:

1999 State of the Judiciary

Wednesday, January 13, 1999

Mr. Speaker...Mr. President...Members of the 90th General Assembly:

"The life of the law has not been logic. The life of the law has been experience." So said Oliver Wendell Holmes - one of the most famous justices of the United States Supreme Court. It reminds me, though, of an old Missouri saying: "Experience is what you get, when you go looking for something else."

The first experience I should tell about - for the three new senators and 20 new representatives not here last year - is my own experience with the General Assembly. My first connection to state government was working as an intern right here in the House of Representatives. Later, while in law school, I drafted legislation for House members. More recently, the Senate confirmed me to four different positions on boards and in the executive branch of state government. I have been at hearings that seemed to last forever, and others that were seemingly over in seconds. On a personal note, I have enjoyed serving as Chief Justice for the past 18 months, and I look forward to my next six months in that capacity. I thank you for the hospitality you have shown, and appreciate my two opportunities to address you.

In this State of the Judiciary address, I want to report to you on the experience of the third branch of government, and how we together can build on that experience to improve the structure of the judiciary.

Twenty years ago, the General Assembly - at the request of the judiciary - examined our branch of government and proposed a constitutional amendment that reorganized the structure of Missouri courts from top to bottom. This became what is now Article V of the Constitution. Among other reforms, that new Article V unified the courts of this state and organized them into a hierarchical pyramid. As a result, the courts can better serve your constituents, and cases move through the system as they never had before. I am proud to tell you there are no case backlogs in Missouri courts. Your amendment has worked. For 20 years, there has been no major change in the structure of the judiciary. For example, during those two decades, we have handled more and more cases, but have had very few new judgeships created.

The Article V constitutional amendment took effect on January 2, 1979. Today, in 1999, based on 20 years experience, I present some changes to the structure of the judiciary that will help achieve our ultimate goal: the prompt access to justice by the people of this state from a judiciary second to none. As the insightful commentator Alexis de Tocqueville observed about a century and a half ago, Americans "consider society as a body in a state of improvement, humanity as a changing scene, in which nothing is, or ought to be permanent; and Americans admit that what appears to them today to be good, may be superseded by something better tomorrow." This General Assembly - bridging the 20th and 21st centuries - can make some course corrections that will build an even better judiciary.

During this session, the judicial branch will ask you to make the clerk of each circuit court an appointed position. Election of circuit clerks no longer suits the needs of the modern judicial system. As late as when the 1979 constitutional amendment was adopted, circuit clerks were locally paid and had more discretion in the performance of their duties.

Twenty years ago, the General Assembly considered whether circuit clerks ought to be elected. The 1979 constitutional amendment left the matter open. As amended, the Constitution now reads: "Until otherwise provided by law, circuit clerks in each circuit and county shall be selected in the same manner as provided by law on the effective date of this article...". The Constitution invites you to address this issue.

Today, circuit clerks are state employees, paid by the state, performing their duties to rigorous state standards. As a result, the position of circuit clerk has fewer and fewer discretionary duties. Missouri law details specifically how case files are handled, the deadlines for action, and how money is collected and disbursed. In contrast, county commissioners, sheriffs, prosecutors - among others - enjoy a great deal of discretion in carrying out their jobs. In accordance with court guidelines, the circuit clerk supervises data processing for the court, coordinates the court's staff, and docket cases for each judge. Additionally, by Missouri statute, circuit clerks must help citizens seeking domestic relations restraining orders, or requesting enforcement of visitation orders.

For those of you with in-district assistants, electing circuit clerks is like electing your in-district assistant. More generally, electing circuit clerks is like electing the Secretary of the Senate and the Clerk of this House. Legislative assistants and your clerks are highly responsible positions that ensure the day-to-day functioning of the General Assembly. They have many administrative duties that do not end when session ends. Your assistants have few discretionary duties, but instead carry out their jobs subject to your direction as the elected decision-maker. No one should seriously recommend that these legislative clerks be elected by the voters of Missouri.

More to the point, there is no training program or background that qualifies a person to be a legislative clerk or district assistant - they have to be appointed to the position and "learn on the job". Similarly, there is no training program or background that qualifies a person to be a circuit clerk, other than on the job experience.

The time has come for Missouri to join the growing number of states that appoint most of their judicial administrators. Missouri spends a great deal of state money and time in order to train newly elected circuit clerks to fulfill the requirements of their jobs. We should not lose a highly trained employee after just four years, often to someone with no background or qualifications for the job.

Last week, I met with the leadership of the Circuit Clerks Association. While there are differences of opinion and degrees of commitment, about two-thirds of the circuit clerks themselves believe that their positions should be appointed. On behalf of the Judicial Conference, I endorse legislation to make the position of circuit clerk appointed rather than elected.

A second structural issue is the position of commissioner in the circuit courts of this state. In commendable efforts, in various areas of the law, the General Assembly has enacted legislation that commissioners, rather than judges, hear certain types of cases. Currently, Missouri law establishes commissioners in certain counties and circuits to hear probate, juvenile, domestic relations, drug-related, traffic-related and landlord/tenant cases. There are now over two dozen (26, to be exact) full-time circuit court commissioners in this state, and a couple of part-time commissioners.

These commissioners have served well, meeting the needs of your constituents in a number of critical areas. Commissioners have gone beyond the courthouses to serve the people, such as in St. Louis County, where traffic court commissioners hear cases all over the county. Juvenile court commissioners hear cases at juvenile centers and other settings away from the main courthouses.

However, as the number of commissioners has multiplied, the challenges to their authority have also increased. The 1979 constitutional amendment simply does not anticipate commissioners acting as judges. Serious questions have been presented to the Supreme Court regarding the authority of circuit court commissioners to sign final court judgments, to issue warrants and to take other judicial action. These questions continue to be raised. In disapproving Senate Bill 614 last year, the Governor questioned the wisdom of extending judicial authority to persons not selected as are other trial court judges.

I am pleased to stand with the Governor and call for the conversion of circuit court commissioners to judges. Conversion could take place no later than the expiration of the current commissioners' terms. This legislation has almost no cost, since commissioners are paid at the same level as judges. Passage of this legislation will eliminate the nagging questions about those who decide the people's cases.

As I travel the state of Missouri as Chief Justice, when I walk the halls of this building, I am frequently asked about court automation. No project will enable the judiciary to better serve your constituents than new court technology. Court automation allows the judicial system to operate efficiently within the structure mandated in 1979. You are to be commended for recognizing the needs of your constituents by enacting and continuing to support the automation of the courts. Missouri is now recognized as the leader in the country in computerizing our law enforcement and courts.

The federal government searched the states last fall for a site to experiment with linking juvenile officers, in order to study the effect on juvenile crime. They quickly settled on Missouri as a model for the nation. Now all juvenile offices through the state are linked. A local juvenile officer can ask all other juvenile officers about the history and status of particular juvenile offenders, in order to tailor services for a specific juvenile. Congress also chose Missouri as the state to pioneer a database that collects background information on juvenile offenders.

Public access to case files on the Internet has made its debut. In Jackson County, the public can access on-line probate information. Court automation is developing a system for all citizens to access court dockets without having to visit the courthouse. The Eastern District of the Court of Appeals will have electronic access to its case files within the next month.

The Eastern District Court of Appeals can have such public access because... that court is the first appellate court in America to use the same case management system as is used in the trial courts. Other states' courts have to convert data from the trial courts' systems, to the system used by the appellate court. Missouri has adapted the same case management for both trial courts and appellate courts.

As I reported last year, we are now installing court automation throughout the state. The groundwork has been laid for an automated judicial system that will be the national model for some time to come.

I should address other items before you this year. Several filed bills would exclude various persons from jury service. This issue was addressed in the 1995 report of The Advisory Commission on the Organization of the Judicial Department, a commission appointed by the governor. That Commission noted "jury service is an obligation and privilege of citizenship from which no eligible citizen should be disqualified or exempt." The Commission also said, "The ability to be excused upon request contributes substantially to reducing a representative jury since it is likely that those who can avoid jury service will do so." I request that the General Assembly most carefully consider legislation excluding any person from jury service, in order to preserve one of the great hallmarks of our justice system: the right to trial by a jury representative of the community.

But I do recommend that you lessen the burden of jury service. Juror compensation is a glaring shortfall. The Supreme Court recently hosted a diverse citizen's group of educators, law enforcement, community leaders and others to solicit changes in the judiciary to meet the needs of Missourians into the 21st century. This group cited inadequate juror pay as a major challenge in Missouri justice. This issue was also noted in 1995 by the Governor's Advisory Commission I earlier mentioned. Statutory minimum jury compensation remains $6 per day, and has been so since 1957 - for over 41 years. Such minimal pay causes many of your constituents to avoid juror service due to the financial hardship of serving on a jury.

Inadequate juror compensation most hurts those called for lengthy jury trials. The National Center for State Courts has proposed that the states adopt legislation that keeps low levels of juror compensation for short service, say 2 or 3 days, but then dramatically increases juror payment for longer service. I am pleased to report that the average length of a jury trial in Missouri is less than 3 days, so an increase in compensation beyond such a point could ease juror hardship while not greatly increasing total jury expenses. Again, I am pleased that proposals to improve jury compensation are serious this year.

I began my remarks by referring to the "life of the law", which is not logic, but is experience. Another definition of law also focuses on experience and links it to the "goal of the law". Samuel Johnson, a non-attorney author, defined law as, "the last result of human wisdom, acting upon human experience, for the benefit of the public." From experience, we know the unified court system of 1979 has well served your constituents for the last 20 years. Experience shows that some course corrections will make the courts even better able to serve the needs of the public for years to come.

Have a great session!

On motion of Senator DePasco, the Joint Session was dissolved and the Senators returned to the Chamber where they were called to order by Senator Wiggins.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senators Scott, Clay and Banks offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 6

WHEREAS, the members of the Missouri General Assembly always deem it fitting and proper to memorialize significant events which occur in the State; and

WHEREAS, the 1998 professional baseball season is one which will long be remembered by the baseball fans; and

WHEREAS, 1998 was a season which produced an exciting contest between Mark McGwire of the St. Louis Cardinals and Sammy Sosa of the Chicago Cubs to establish a new major league home run record; and

WHEREAS, the attention of all baseball fans was directed toward the home run struggle which culminated in a new record being established by Mark McGwire; and

WHEREAS, on the way to setting a single season record of seventy home runs, Mark McGwire established numerous other records, among which was his becoming the first major league baseball player to have three consecutive fifty home run seasons; and

WHEREAS, when our nation was being distracted by other problems of varying importance, the 1998 baseball season gave many Americans a pleasurable focus:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate of the Ninetieth General Assembly, the House of

Representatives concurring therein, hereby join unanimously in honoring Mark McGwire of the St. Louis Cardinals, by designating the portion of Interstate Highway 70 from Market Street to the Missouri River as the "Mark McGwire Highway" in commemoration of Mark McGwire's record setting 70 home run season; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for Mark McGwire in recognition of his outstanding achievements and for the Missouri Department of Transportation.

Senator Ehlmann offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 7

WHEREAS, the State of Missouri has sued various tobacco manufacturers and tobacco-related companies on causes of action including violations of the Missouri Merchandising Practices Act, antitrust, unjust enrichment and restitution, indemnity for health care costs, civil conspiracy, aiding and abetting other tobacco companies in all violations, strict liability for a dangerous product, negligence, fraud, public nuisance, and injunctive relief against unfair or unlawful practices; and

WHEREAS, in recognition of the difficulties and expense of protracted litigation over these causes of action, the State of Missouri has conditionally entered into a Master Settlement Agreement with the various tobacco manufacturers and tobacco-related companies, which will result in the receipt of approximately $6.7 billion by the State of Missouri over the next 25 years; and

WHEREAS, these tobacco settlement proceeds resulting from the Master Settlement Agreement have been repeatedly characterized in the press by members of the Governor's staff and the State Budget Director as representing either reimbursement for past health-related expenditures or federal funds, and as such as falling outside the definition of "total state revenues" under the Hancock Amendment to the Missouri Constitution; and

WHEREAS, the Master Settlement Agreement clearly states that "All payments...are in settlement of all...antitrust, consumer protection, common law negligence, statutory, common law and equitable claims for monetary, restitutionary, equitable and injunctive relief alleged"; and

WHEREAS, the Master Settlement Agreement further specifies that "Each participating manufacturer specifically disclaims and denies any liability or wrongdoing whatsoever with respect to the claims and allegations asserted against it" and further states that "Each participating manufacturer has entered into this Agreement solely to avoid the further expense, inconvenience, burden and risk of litigation"; and

WHEREAS, these provisions clearly state that the various tobacco manufacturers and tobacco-related companies are not reimbursing the State of Missouri for any expenses but have instead agreed to make the payments in return for having the State of Missouri "release past, present and future claims"; and

WHEREAS, these provisions further undercut any rational argument that the tobacco settlement proceeds constitute federal funds; and

WHEREAS, the tobacco settlement proceeds, when received by the State of Missouri, will be deposited into the state treasury and will then be subject to appropriation, meeting the requirement for "total state revenues" as held by the Supreme Court of Missouri in the Kelly v. Hanson decision; and

WHEREAS, characterization of the tobacco settlement as a reimbursement could result in a federal lien for sixty percent of the proceeds since sixty percent of Medicaid funding comes from the Federal Government; and

WHEREAS, the importance of this issue requires a full and fair debate among the members of the General Assembly; and

WHEREAS, failure by the administration to treat the tobacco settlement proceed as "total state revenue" will lead to protracted and expensive litigation;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Senate of the Ninetieth General Assembly, the House of Representatives concurring therein, recommend to His Excellency the Governor that the State Budget Director treat tobacco settlement proceeds as total state revenue and include it in any refund required by the Missouri Constitution; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for His Excellency the Governor.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 10

WHEREAS, the current financial crises in Asia, Russia and other regions have involved massive depreciation in the currencies of several key steel-producing and steel-consuming countries and a collapse in the domestic demand for steel in those countries; and

WHEREAS, these crises have generated and will continue to generate surges in United States imports of steel, both from the countries whose currencies have depreciated in the crisis and from steel producing countries that are no longer able to export steel to the countries in economic crisis; and

WHEREAS, foreign government trade restrictions and private restraints of trade distort international trade and investment patterns and result in burdens on United States commerce, including absorption of a disproportionate share of diverted steel trade, which ultimately has a detrimental effect on this state's economy; and

WHEREAS, there is a well recognized need for improvements in the enforcement of United States trade laws to provide an effective response to these situations;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate of the Ninetieth General Assembly, the House of Representatives concurring therein, requests the President of the United States to commence immediate study to determine the entry into the customs territory of the United States of all steel products that are the product of or are manufactured in Australia, China, South Africa, Ukraine, Indonesia, India, Japan, Russia, South Korea or Brazil, to determine whether the governments of those countries are abiding by the spirit and letter of international trade agreements with respect to imports of steel products into the United States, and take all actions necessary to enforce applicable trade agreements and laws of the United States pertaining to steel imports; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the General Assembly of the State of Missouri requests the President of the United States to immediately impose a one-year ban on imports of all steel products that are the product of or are manufactured in Australia, China, South Africa, Ukraine, Indonesia, India, Japan, Russia, South Korea or Brazil, if the President finds that the governments of those countries are not abiding by the spirit and letter of international trade agreements with respect to imports of steel products into the United States; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the General Assembly of the State of Missouri requests the President of the United States to establish a task force within the executive branch to closely monitor imports of steel products to the United States from other countries to determine whether international trade agreements are being violated; and

MISCELLANEOUS

Senator Banks requested unanimous consent to have the following address honoring Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., printed in the Journal, which request was granted.

DO WE KNOW THAT THE HOUSE IS ON FIRE?

A celebration is a festive and gala event which takes place shortly after a victory, it represents some milestone that is punctuated with appreciation. It symbolizes a triumph of some kind, the accomplishment of something of some great magnitude. This should be the annual occasion for the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. holiday. From the onset of the day set aside in his memory for commemoration of this distinguished man of our time, we should all be adding accolades, which contribute to his stature. This could be easily done inasmuch as he did not hold forth anything that was obtuse or abstract; he was specific and concrete in his expectations and deliberations regarding our conduct towards one another. While he offered his hopes in a dream, like our Biblical Joseph, who was given the ability to interpret dreams, and to make them clear for us all to see and to emulate; he wanted to see a dramatic shift in the American mood and character, a fundamental change in attitude and tradition, a change of heart of dominant America.

Dr. King had a dream but he was no wide eye dreamer. He hoped that America would turn back the clock of three centuries on institutionalized racism and begin a time of human rights for all citizens of this great country. He spoke of "my country tis of thee," which bespeaks citizenship and loyalty, but for African Americans and People of Color this was not a "sweet land of liberty."

He had this hope and dream whereby all citizens would be invited to the table of equal justice. He wanted to bring not only People of Color to the bar of social, economic and political justice, but he was speaking for us all. He knew the severe consequences of not doing so would lead to a great split among us, and that we would all fall head long into this wide and deep pit of social ignorance, apostate racism. He knew that racial feeling would run to such a high pitch that we would not be able to collectively pull ourselves out of our morass, and that many would be lost in oblivion.

Into this pit countless numbers are falling daily, due to inequality. And while the larger percentage of those are highly disproportionately People of Color, and are being buried alive, nevertheless large numbers are being pushed over the edge who are of all classes, colors and creeds. This is because when a nation stands apart in hatred, and is agitated to relate to the weaknesses of other cultural groups, by every institution in the land, there is no recourse for countless numbers but to take the downward plunge. We are a nation that is descending and not ascending. Those coming after us in this great body of the Senate will not live as well as we have lived. Perhaps they will with more gadgets and perhaps more conveniences, but they will have lost the possibility of having a quality of life and the substance of neighborhoods and communities in culturally diverse relationships. It is strange that we can restructure our economy and corporations and even our government but not our feelings about our fellow citizens.

We are a nation on the march, but where are we going? Are we on the road to better understanding and caring about what is happening to our state of the nation? Do we acknowledge that we have only four (4) basic blood types, which means that we had a common beginning, and that all the sons of Noah, Ham, Shem and Japheth have made contributions which added to those of the others. What is the notion of a house without a foundation, or the inner structure, or the roof. Who gets the full credit for the house, what could we have done without, who is more important than whom. And yet today, the house, America, is on fire and while we may not have good relationships among ourselves we must all get together and put the fire out. There is no luxury of slacking, nor is there any reason to suppose that if no effort is undertaken that you and yours will not face the flames, perhaps not this generation, but surely the one to come. This is a job of togetherness; all hands are needed to hose down this fire. This is a new America that is coming to the fore out of the ashes; the old one is burning down. And, the only way that enthusiasm, excitement, and commitment will give hurry to the effort of all is through the appreciation that once the job is accomplished, the fire is finally out, we will not have, nor tolerate, business as usual.

This is a country, which claims to have been founded on the Judeo-Christian ethic-we must show that we are grounded in it as well. Dr. King spoke of equal rights, equal justice, and equal opportunity in education, housing, and employment. The right to hope and dream and believe that judgement would come after, and not before, the presentation of self. He was speaking of the content of character, and not the color of one's skin.

Freedom is not freedom unless we are all free. He said it well, "if we do not live together as brothers, we will perish together as fools."

We all remember his clear analogies regarding the ringing of bells, from the highest mountains to the lowest molehills, in sounding to let freedom ring. This may be the last wake up call for America. This is a call of conscience, which needs to be revamped, revised and revisited.

If such bells do not ring for freedom for all, they most assuredly will ring, but they will be in a cadence of intermissions, a toll, a funeral dirge, and then we will know that a solemn procession has begun for all America, and that we are all victims of the fire.

The Joint Committee appointed to wait upon His Excellency, Governor Mel Carnahan, escorted the Governor to the dais where he delivered the State of the State Address to the Joint Assembly:

Missouri-Meeting the Challenges of a New Century

State of the State Address

January 20, 1999

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. President Pro Tem, Distinguished State Officials, Members of the 90th General Assembly, and Citizens of the State of Missouri:

INTRODUCTION

Our nation hungers for heroes.

It is the nature of our spirit.

Heroes founded this land.

They built its greatness.

And now it is in the hands of the heroes of today to shape its vision for a new century.

For the ideals that inspired the American dream can only remain strong if we have the courage and commitment to expand their possibilities.

Last year the eyes of the entire world were riveted on Missouri to watch the birth of a new American hero.

The young man might have seemed to some an unlikely candidate to reach such heights.

After all, he had 20/500 vision, a bulging disk in his back, weak arches that required special shoe inserts, and had undergone three foot surgeries.

Yet at 8:18 p.m., on September 8, in St. Louis, none of those obstacles seemed important.

Mark McGwire sent the first pitch sailing over the corner of the left field wall and into the history books.

But the McGwire miracle was far from over.

By the time the season ended, Mark not only broke the record for the number of home runs hit in a single season--he demolished it.

And he did it with a humility and grace that made Missouri proud.

However, the true heroism of Mark McGwire is taking place off the field.

He is donating one million dollars for the next three years to help abused and neglected children.

The reason?

Because he wants to give something back to a world that has given him so much.

From his own success, he wants to create opportunities for others.

Throughout our state, thousands of Missourians share those goals.

They may never be in the history books, or make millions of dollars, but they are dedicated to helping others.

These are today's heroes.

It is my privilege to introduce three of these who are here with us today.

First, I would like you to meet the youngest member of our group--Ashlee Vann from Springfield.

Ashlee is a young girl with a big job.

She is only eleven, but she has been running a Kid's Café since she was nine.

Every evening, Ashlee feeds dinner to 60-70 needy children at her café.

She coordinates the entire project of preparing and serving the food, which is donated by Ozark Food Harvest.

Ashlee has three to four other people, including several adults, who work with her, and she does a great job.

Ashlee, would you please stand so we can recognize you for the work you do.

The second person I would like you to meet is Erika Lipiec from Maryville.

Erika is a high school freshman and has been actively involved in the anti-teen smoking campaign in her community for more than two years.

She has testified before her city council in support of a city youth anti-smoking program that she helped pass in 1997.

And she spoke at the Great American Smoke Out news conference last year.

Erika feels teen-age smoking is a serious problem and wants to improve the health of her generation.

Erika, we appreciate your work on behalf of the good health of Missouri citizens.

Please stand and be recognized.

Our third guest today is Laurie Sybert, who teaches second grade at Leland Mills Elementary School in Lake Ozark.

Laurie is one of those people we talk about when we say someone was "born to teach."

Her mother taught in a one-room schoolhouse and instilled in Laurie the need to go above and beyond what she thought she was capable of doing.

During her thirteen years in the classroom, Laurie has taught her students that same lesson.

Ten years ago, Laurie's ability to reach beyond her limits was tested.

She was diagnosed with MS.

Her symptoms became so bad five years ago that she could barely walk, and her doctor advised her to quit teaching.

Yet, this illness has inspired Laurie to be even more enthusiastic about her life and her work.

Today she lives each day to the fullest.

She is an outstanding example of the many excellent teachers we have in Missouri, and that is why she was selected as the 1998-99 Missouri Teacher of the Year.

Laurie, we want to show our appreciation for you and all the other Missouri educators who have dedicated their lives to preparing our young people for the future.

Please stand to be recognized.

All three of these honored guests here with us today are true Missouri heroes.

Each of them, in her own special way, is making a significant contribution to the success of our state by bettering the lives of others.

As we begin this 1999 legislative session, these Missourians should be an inspiration to all of us.

We, too, have accepted the responsibility of working on behalf of a better life for others.

Today, I come before you to ask your cooperation in working on behalf of the best interests of the people of Missouri as we prepare to meet the challenges of a new century.

ECONOMY

The foundation for our success is found in a thriving economy.

Only a few short years ago, constructing such a foundation seemed impossible.

In the early years of this decade, we were mired in a recession.

Our companies were downsizing, forcing many Missourians to seek a new job for the first time in years.

Yet today our unemployment rate is historically low.

According to the latest monthly reports, our unemployment numbers are the lowest in twenty years.

They are significantly lower than the national rate.

While Missouri's unemployment rate is holding at 3.3 percent, the national rate is 4.1.

Our aggressive approach to economic development and our landmark welfare reform efforts have made the difference.

Since 1992, we created over 350,000 new jobs and moved over 121,000 of our citizens off welfare.

We gained 382 new or expanding business operations last year alone.

This gain translates into over a billion dollars of new private investment in our state.

At the same time, Missourians are receiving a good return on their tax dollars.

By any objective measure, Missouri is a low tax, low spending state.

We are one of only nine states to receive the highly coveted Triple A bond rating from all three major bond rating agencies.

By completing a top to bottom review of government service--the first in several decades--we have further reduced waste, duplication, and bureaucracy.

We must continue to give Missourians an even better return on their investment.

TAX CUTS

Because we have nurtured such a growing economy, we have, for the first time in almost a generation, been able to give Missourians major permanent tax relief over the past few years.

In 1997, we eliminated the three percent general state sales tax on food.

These cuts give the average Missouri family the equivalent of two weeks of free groceries every year.

In 1998, we extended more tax relief to Missouri families and senior citizens.

We tripled the amount Missouri families can deduct for their dependents on their state income tax.

We expanded the property tax credit that senior and disabled citizens receive so that more Missourians on fixed incomes can stay in their homes.

And we implemented a new deduction so that those who care for elderly and disabled dependents in their homes could also receive tax relief.

In fact, since 1994, we have been able to provide Missouri families with almost 430 million dollars in permanent tax cuts.

This year I want to continue this good news for taxpayers.

Our robust economy makes it possible to offer new, meaningful tax relief this year.

First of all, we should increase the personal exemption that all Missourians receive on their state income tax by $900.

This will raise each taxpayer's personal exemption to $2,100.

Every Missouri income taxpayer will benefit from this tax cut.

Our citizens have not received an increase in this exemption since 1946.

This plan will reduce the amount of state income tax that couples pay by up to $108 annually and give individual filers up to a $54 tax break.

Over 200,000 more state households will not pay any state income tax at all.

We should also help Missouri businesses this year by reducing the amount they have to pay in corporate franchise tax.

The vast majority of our Missouri businesses are small, but they create most of our new jobs.

Right now, businesses have to pay this tax if they have assets of at least $200,000.

I want to raise that threshold to one million dollars.

This tax cut would virtually eliminate the corporate franchise tax for small businesses.

The third prong of my tax relief plan is targeted at helping the self-employed in Missouri.

Currently, many of these entrepreneurs cannot afford health insurance.

By allowing our smallest businesses to deduct health insurance premiums from their adjusted gross income, we can help them purchase affordable health care for themselves and their families.

When fully implemented, these three steps will give Missourians $191 million in new tax cuts.

And we can afford to give Missourians this reasonable tax relief without jeopardizing our investments in education, public safety, and other crucial state services.

EDUCATION

Without question, the most important thing we can do to prepare Missourians to meet the challenges of a new century is to offer a high quality education system.

From the day Missouri children are born, each experience shapes their future and the future of our state.

Because of our actions last session, Missouri families will have new opportunities to provide their children with the experiences they need in order to enter school ready to learn.

Our early childhood initiative provides thousands of Missouri children with access to affordable, quality child care so they can receive a strong start in life.

And I want to publicly thank our Missouri veterans for their help during the legislative process in getting this legislation passed.

These men and women who served in our Armed Forces to protect our generation are now helping to protect the next one through their support of new child care services for Missouri's children.

One of these new child care services that is receiving an exciting response is our "Jump Start" program.

Because of "Jump Start," Missouri parents will now have access to quality child care for their pre-school children in many of our public schools and communities.

So far, 160 sites at 124 different school districts have requested to participate in this innovative new approach to early childhood care and education.

To implement the work we began last year, my budget contains $55.6 million for early childhood care and education.

Of course, once our children enter public school, we want them to receive the best education possible.

I am pleased to announce that for the fourth year in a row I am recommending that you act to fully fund our new, more equitable school foundation formula.

By doing so, we give students the resources they need to receive a world class education.

This new formula was a part of our Outstanding Schools Act of 1993.

It implemented numerous reforms to make both Missouri schools and students more accountable for their progress.

I believe we can do more this session in the area of school accountability by ensuring that children are mastering the basics, particularly in the early grades.

The public and employers are rightfully concerned when students are promoted from one grade to the next without acquiring the basic academic knowledge and skills they need to succeed at the next grade level.

To address their concerns, I want to allow school districts to make remedial classes a condition of promotion for those students who have not mastered the basic skills of their particular grade level.

This is especially important in the early grades where students must build a solid foundation for advanced learning.

Our proposal provides the funds to enable schools to offer this extra attention to students who need it.

Students judged to be academically deficient can be required to attend summer school classes or tutorial activities after school or on weekends.

Schools can also require parents to sign a contract pledging to conduct home-based support activities as a condition of promotion.

Under this plan, our Department of Elementary and Secondary Education will examine how well schools are improving the scores of the lowest performing students on our assessment tests.

These results will be taken into consideration when the school's accreditation status is reviewed.

School districts will also keep their patrons informed on the progress of underachieving students through their public school report card.

These actions will reinforce our emphasis on high expectations and accountability for learning.

Over the past few years, we have focused a great deal of attention on making our schools safe places for our students to attend--inside, outside, and on the bus.

For the safety of our students, I have also directed the departments of Elementary and Secondary Education and Public Safety to jointly develop a model school disaster plan.

Many of our local schools are ill prepared to handle all aspects of the natural disasters and traumatic crises that can occur such as the tragic shootings in Jonesboro, Arkansas.

By developing a model plan, school districts will have a standard to compare against their local plan to see if changes need to be made.

A statewide crisis team will be available upon the request of local school officials to offer immediate assistance in the case of any school emergencies.

We will also finish our efforts this year to wire schools to the Internet, so Missouri students will have access to information from around the world.

This year, for the first time, every school district in Missouri will have high speed access to the Internet.

Computer literacy is a vital tool for today's job seekers and will be indispensable in the workplace of the future.

Last year, we made major progress in improving access to higher education for Missourians by authorizing four new programs.

Our new Bridge Scholarships, College Guarantee Program, Advantage Missouri, and MOSTARS Higher Education Savings Fund will make it possible for more of our high school graduates to gain the advanced education and training they need to meet the demands of today's employers.

My budget recommendations include $10.5 million to implement these new education access tools.

WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

Making it possible for our young people to have access to a better and more advanced education is going to pay tremendous dividends for the generations to come.

But in the new world economy, we must ensure Missouri businesses have the kind of highly skilled workers they need to compete.

I am proud of the workforce development progress we have made.

Last year our workforce system helped 125,000 Missourians get jobs.

But even though we are using innovative practices such as one-stop career centers, our fragmented workforce system is not as efficient and user friendly as it could be.

Many Missourians who seek employment and training services are still being bounced from office to office to have their needs met.

During a one month period this summer, the same St. Louis employer received visits by job development representatives from three different state agencies that were all trying to help him find qualified people to fill his job openings.

This kind of duplication is a waste of time and money.

Therefore, we must take our approach to workforce development in a new direction.

Our administration wants to create a Division of Workforce Development.

According to our proposal, this new division will replace our existing Division of Job Development and Training that is under our Department of Economic Development.

All employment, training, and job matching functions from the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations will move to the new division.

This consolidation will be a huge improvement for both workers and employers.

Employers will find state workforce services to be more responsive to their needs, and Missourians will be better prepared for the jobs that are available in the labor force.

HEALTH

Missourians will need all the education and training they can obtain to meet the challenges of a new century, but they must be healthy if they are to be able to use their talents productively.

Last year I came to you on behalf of the thousands of children in our state who are not receiving the basic primary and preventive health care services they need.

These families had no health insurance and no realistic prospect of obtaining affordable health insurance.

But today, many of these families are breathing a sigh of relief because you approved our Children's Health Initiative last session.

Thanks to our new MC-Plus Program for Kids, 90,000 children with no health insurance and no prospect of getting health insurance can now have access to affordable health care.

In only four months of the program, we have already enrolled nearly 25,000 children.

Thousands of Missouri children whose lives were in danger have been rescued by the responsible action we took last year, and I commend you for your support of this program.

Unfortunately, the good health of many of our citizens is in danger because of another threat--smoking.

Tobacco use is the leading cause of cancer in this country, and Missouri has the second highest rate of tobacco use of any state.

Approximately 28 percent of all Missouri adults smoke.

Even more alarming, recent studies indicate that more than 40 percent of our state's teenagers smoke.

These statistics are taking their toll.

Tobacco use contributes to 28 deaths in Missouri every day.

And now we know that nicotine found in tobacco is often a "gateway" drug that leads our teenagers to other substance abuse.

That is why the work of every day heroes like Erika here is so important.

Ninety percent of all smokers started smoking before the age of 21.

So if we can stop teens from smoking before they start, we can make significant headway in bringing down both the human and health care costs of tobacco use.

Now, because of a recent legal development, we have a tremendous opportunity to save the lives of countless Missouri young people in future years.

The recent Tobacco Settlement that was reached will allow Missouri to recover a portion of the health care costs our state and taxpayers have incurred or will incur because of smoking and tobacco use.

I want to applaud the work of our Attorney General Jay Nixon for his leadership in reaching this monumental agreement.

However, litigation involving these funds is still pending.

Payments under the settlement are not expected to begin until the year 2000.

Before any settlement dollars come to Missouri, a final judgment must be obtained.

In addition, the federal government may try to recover these funds or dictate their use.

While we intend to fight this action, none of us can be certain of the outcome.

Therefore, we need to set this money aside until we are confident that these funds are, in fact, available to Missouri.

I ask you to establish a Tobacco Settlement Trust Fund, pending the outcome of the litigation and other uncertainties.

Its purpose will be to preserve these funds for future investments to support anti-teen smoking initiatives and to improve the health and education of future generations.

Unless we can reduce the number of teens and young people who are smoking in Missouri, our taxpayers will continue to pay the huge financial and human price that is associated with tobacco.

The emotional well being of our citizens is just as important as their physical health.

When our citizens develop a serious mental illness, the necessary treatment they require can financially ruin their family.

The Joint Interim Committee on Mental Health Insurance Availability, co-chaired by Senator Jerry Howard and Rep. Mike Schilling, should be recognized for its examination of the accessibility of mental health services in Missouri.

I look forward to working with the committee members this session to see how we can improve both the quality and access to mental health services in Missouri.

PUBLIC SAFETY

In addition to preparing a healthier and better educated Missouri for a new century, we must ensure that our streets and neighborhoods are safe for our citizens.

During the six years of our administration, we have passed some of the toughest crime laws in the country.

Our new, tougher sentencing laws are helping to keep the most dangerous criminals behind bars and making juveniles that commit dangerous felonies serve adult sentences.

Partly as a result of tougher sentencing, we have experienced a great reduction in serious crime in Missouri.

Our new law passed last year to battle the evil producers and traffickers of the deadly drug methamphetamine is the toughest in the nation.

Other states are looking at our legislation as a model for their own approaches.

Our strong new laws to keep insidious sexual offenders under intense supervision for the rest of their lives are taking hold.

But we need to take some additional actions this session for the further protection of our citizens.

The law we enacted in 1994 requires sex offenders to register and provide information to local law enforcement agencies.

Currently, our citizens can only keep track of these criminals by contacting law enforcement offices or the State Highway Patrol's central registry during regular business hours.

To make this information more accessible to the public, we need to make it available on the Internet through our Department of Public Safety's home page.

Missourians going to that web page will be able to find out the offender's name, place of residence, date of birth, appearance, and criminal record.

We also need a juvenile sexual offender registry.

In 1997, 961 minors in our state were referred to juvenile court for sexual offenses.

But we currently have no law requiring the registration of juvenile sex offenders, even though this information would greatly assist the police and juvenile authorities in keeping our schools and our streets safe from dangerous sex offenders.

While we must maintain the confidentiality that is required by state law for young offenders, we need to require juvenile courts to maintain a registry of juvenile sex offenders.

State agencies would be required to share information.

TRANSPORTATION

A sound transportation infrastructure is crucial to Missouri's economic vitality and the safety of its motorists in a new century.

I, like many of you, am greatly disheartened by the financial insolvency of the 15-Year Plan.

Throughout my years of public service, I have been a strong advocate of a top quality transportation infrastructure for Missouri.

When the 15-Year Plan was under consideration in the legislature years ago, I came up here as Lieutenant Governor to lobby for its passage.

However, it is now clear that despite the good intentions of many people, the plan cannot be built with currently available revenues.

However, many of the projects in the 15-Year Plan remain crucial to Missouri's future.

And important new needs have emerged since the plan was originally drafted.

To protect and advance Missouri's economic health, we must find enough common ground to move forward in the development of a total transportation plan that has bipartisan support.

I fully recognize that we face major obstacles.

But we must keep working at it until we can achieve enough consensus to move forward.

And we must make real progress this year because delay will only cost more money, more lives, and more missed economic opportunities.

Among the more significant obstacles is the divisiveness over the regional allocation of transportation dollars.

The rural/urban split will continue to be a highly contentious issue--and an impediment to statewide progress--unless we can reach agreement on an allocation process that Missourians in all regions will view as fair.

The Highway and Transportation Commission has taken an important step toward addressing this matter.

It will soon establish a Rural/Urban Advisory Group to recommend changes that will increase public confidence in the way the Commission makes future rural/urban allocation decisions.

I urge all of you to lend your support to this important initiative.

STATE EMPLOYEES

During our administration, we have demanded much more of our state employees.

We have put a great deal of effort into eliminating government inefficiency in order to improve customer service.

But improved customer service in state government requires an experienced, dedicated, and productive workforce.

If we want high quality services, we must have high quality people providing those services.

So for my past six years as governor, we have taken steps to attract and retain the best state employees so we would not lose them to private industry.

This year is no exception.

For the fourth year in a row, I am recommending that our state employees receive marketplace salary increases.

While the percentage will vary depending on the salary relationship of the employee to the marketplace, most of our state employees will receive about a five percent increase.

As we continue to work to bring public sector salaries in line with the private sector, we should also work in other ways to place public employees on an equal footing with their private sector counterparts.

I hope this General Assembly will work to send me a bipartisan bill granting public employees the right to bargain collectively.

CONCLUSION

These are some of the major issues that I would like us to address this year.

And as we begin that work, I believe we can look to the every day heroes who have joined us today for inspiration.

Ashlee, Erika, and Laurie are heroes, not because of one single act of bravery.

But because they have found the courage to embrace goals that are bigger than any one person and the selflessness to work toward those goals every day of their lives.

Feeding sixty people day in and day out is not an easy task.

But Ashlee does it so that these children will have the nourishment they need to grow into strong adults.

Standing up against the peer pressure to smoke and working to convince others of the dangers of tobacco is difficult.

But Erika does it so that the teenagers in her community will be able to grow up to be healthy adults.

Teaching a class full of second graders every day and dealing with all their questions, problems, and enthusiasm is always challenging.

But Laurie is dedicated to helping them become productive, responsible adults.

Now is our time to be the heroes of our day--to embrace goals that are bigger than any one person, one party, or one branch of government.

Our state and our nation have just gone through another hard fought election campaign.

But that campaign is over, and the people have spoken.

Now the citizens of the State of Missouri expect us to work together on the issues that matter to them--good jobs, a better education and health care for their children, and a safe place to live.

This is not the time to speak of politics.

That time will come again, but it is not this day.

This is a time to do the people's business.

When I was elected governor, I made a commitment to the people of Missouri to do a good job on their behalf.

And that is what I intend to do.

I want to work with all of you in building on the tremendous accomplishments we have achieved in the past.

And so I ask that you join me in the spirit of bipartisan cooperation that has made those accomplishments possible.

Where there are questions, let us find answers.

Where there is emotion, let us find reason.

Where there are differences, let us find common ground.

May this sacred seat of government and the hallowed principles that shaped it, elevate our ideas and our conduct.

The people of the State of Missouri have entrusted us with their future.

We must not fail them.

On motion of Senator DePasco, the Joint Session was dissolved and the Senators returned to the Chamber where they were called to order by President Wilson.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following messages were received from the Governor:

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

State of Missouri

Jefferson City, Missouri

January 19, 1999

TO THE SENATE OF THE 90TH GENERAL ASSEMBLY

OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 12

WHEREAS, one of the state's highest duties is to protect and promote the well-being of its smallest citizens; and

WHEREAS, there were 230 abortions for every 1000 live births in 1996, over one-half of which were performed for women age twenty-four or younger; and

WHEREAS, the National Council for Adoption estimates the national number of adoptions of infants two years or younger to be approximately 25,000 a year; and

WHEREAS, Missouri generally represents approximately two per-cent of most broad based national statistics, which would result in a calculation of 500 infant adoptions annually, and in 1994, the Department of Health recorded 308 infant adoptions; and

WHEREAS, according to such a calculation, this state experiences thirty-four abortions for each infant adoption, despite the existence of many individuals who are willing and indeed waiting to adopt infants in this state; and

WHEREAS, there is a need to understand the basis for the disproportionate estimated number of abortions to adoptions, in order to assist in the formulation of an effective policy to facilitate a greater number of adoptions and to discourage abortions; and

WHEREAS, this type of understanding would be fostered by the creation of a panel to study the issue in depth, and to determine how best to initiate a statewide public information program to inform citizens of the advantages of adoption as an alternative to abortion;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Senate, Ninetieth General Assembly, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby establish the "Adoption Trends and Policies Panel" to be composed of fifteen members. The members shall consist of two Senators appointed by the President Pro Tem of the Senate, representing each political party, two state Representatives appointed by the Speaker of the House, representing each of the major political parties, the Director of the Department of Social Services or designee, and the Director of the Department of Health or designee and nine citizen members appointed by the Governor; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that said panel conduct an in-depth study and make appropriate recommendations concerning measures to determine the basis for the disproportionate estimated number of abortions to adoptions, formulate a policy to facilitate a greater number of adoptions and to discourage abortions, determine how best to establish a statewide public information program to inform citizens of the advantages of adoption as an alternative to abortion, and any other issues the committee deems relevant;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the panel prepare a report, together with its recommendations for any legislative action it deems necessary for submission to the General Assembly no later than December 15, 1999; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the panel may solicit any input and information necessary to fulfill its obligations, to the Department of Health, Department of Social Services, and representatives of private and public agencies and citizen groups formed to address issues concerning adoption and abortion; and

WHEREAS, it is with heavy hearts that the members of the Missouri Senate pause to acknowledge the numerous achievements of a life gone by, that of longtime Missouri 7th District Congressman Gene Taylor, who passed to his eternal reward on October 27, 1998; and

WHEREAS, born on February 10, 1928, in Sarcoxie, Missouri, Gene Taylor received his education at Southwest Missouri State University in Springfield and worked as a schoolteacher, insurance agent, and auctioneer before assuming ownership of a Ford Dealership in his home town where he became active in civic affairs and Republican politics; and

WHEREAS, Gene Taylor began his career in public service as a Sarcoxie City Council member and as mayor, and served as chairman of the Jasper County Republican Committee, 7th District GOP Chairman, member of the Republican National Committee in the 1960s, and delegate to the Republican National Conventions in 1960 and 1968 before his initial election to the United States Congress in 1972; and

WHEREAS, a remarkable storyteller and friend to his many constituents of Southwest Missouri, Gene Taylor served on the Public Works and Transportation Committee, the Post Office and Civil Service Committee, and the Rules Committee during his impressive sixteen-year tenure in Congress where he was known as the sage of the Ozarks and was well-liked on both sides of the aisle; and

WHEREAS, prior to his retirement from Congress in 1988, Gene Taylor championed highway projects in the 7th Congressional District, received credit for getting new post offices built in Springfield and other cities in his district, and assisted in the establishment of a veterans clinic and nursing home at Mount Vernon; and

WHEREAS, a founding trustee and member of the Board of Regents of Missouri Southern State College in Joplin, Gene Taylor was sincerely admired and deeply respected throughout his community for his active affiliations with such civic and professional organizations as the Lions Club; Sarcoxie Masonic Lodge 293; the Scottish Rite of Joplin; Abou Ben Adhem Shrine of Springfield; Charity Chapter 341, Order of the Eastern Star; the Missouri Auto Dealers Association; and the Missouri Academy of Squires; and

Senator Stoll offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 13

WHEREAS, many states and localities, based upon provisions of the Social Security Act, have affiliated with the Social Security System and developed excellent retirement and related programs that include both Social Security benefits and benefits from the respective state or local government pension plan; and

WHEREAS, other states and localities, in reliance upon the voluntary affiliation provisions, have not elected to participate in Social Security and have developed independent and excellent programs of retirement and related benefits; and

WHEREAS, the 105th Congress of the United States considered provisions to address the long-range funding issues of the Social Security System; and

WHEREAS, in considering such long-range funding issues, the 105th Congress of the United States considered legislation that would mandate Social Security coverage upon states and localities and their employees who have elected not to participate in Social Security; and

WHEREAS, the 106th Congress of the United States is expected to consider the issue of mandating Social Security coverage upon such employees of states and localities; and

WHEREAS, imposition of mandated Social Security coverage upon states, localities and their employees would create substantial cost pressures, necessitating rapid and ill-considered changes in plan design, including the possible abandonment of existing programs; and

WHEREAS, mandating Social Security coverage upon employees of states and localities who have elected not to participate in the Social Security

System would increase expenses of such states and localities, which could result in an increase of taxes to citizens of such states and localities; and

WHEREAS, the inclusion of states, localities and their employees in the Social Security System would not solve the System's long-range funding problems; and

WHEREAS, serious constitutional questions are raised by the imposition of mandatory Social Security coverage of states, localities and their employees:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the Missouri Senate of the Ninetieth General Assembly, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that it record strong opposition to mandatory Social Security coverage for public employees of state and local governments; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate of the Ninetieth General Assembly, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby support the affiliation of states, localities and their employees with Social Security and Medicare only by means of a voluntary referendum; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Missouri Congressional delegation.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Quick offered the following concurrent resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Rules, Joint Rules and Resolutions:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 14

WHEREAS, in late November, 1998, Missouri accepted the 206 billion dollar settlement agreement negotiated between 46 states and the tobacco industry;

WHEREAS, the states' attorneys general crafted the settlement agreement to protect states' interests, consistent with the lawsuits filed on behalf of the states;

WHEREAS, the settlement agreement reflects difficult policy decisions and years of effort among the states which bore the risk and expense of litigating their claims against a strong tobacco industry;

WHEREAS, the federal government neither participated in nor assisted with the litigation and negotiation of the states' claims, yet now seeks to seize a substantial portion of the resulting payments due to the states;

WHEREAS, the federal government bases its claim on federal right to recoupment for medicaid expenses, a claim which was not promoted by the federal government in any litigation prior to the settlement of the states' claims;

WHEREAS, by the terms of the settlement agreement, Missouri would receive approximately 6.7 billion dollars by 2025, yet faces an estimated potential loss of 3.9 billion dollars of this amount to the federal government;

WHEREAS, Missouri rightfully should determine the best use of the settlement proceeds achieved through state effort, using state resources and motivated by state concerns;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the Missouri Senate of the Ninetieth General Assembly, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that the President of the United States and the members of Missouri's Congressional delegation recognize the effort and resources expended by Missouri to promote and protect its interests throughout the litigation and negotiation of claims against the tobacco industry;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the General Assembly of the State of Missouri requests that the President of the United States and the members of Missouri's Congressional delegation protect the proceeds negotiated by Missouri in settlement of its claims by refusing to divert, seize or recoup any portion of the settlement proceeds for federal purposes; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to provide properly inscribed copies of this resolution to Bill Clinton, President of the United States, and to each member of Missouri's Congressional delegation.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 9

WHEREAS, the current financial crises in Asia, Russia and other regions have involved massive depreciation in the currencies of several key steel-producing and steel-consuming countries and a collapse in the domestic demand for steel in those countries; and

WHEREAS, these crises have generated and will continue to generate surges in United States imports of steel, both from the countries whose currencies have depreciated in the crisis and from steel-producing countries that are no longer able to export steel to the countries in economic crisis; and

WHEREAS, there is a well-recognized need for improvements in the enforcement of United States trade laws to provide an effective response to these situations:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri House of Representatives of the Ninetieth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby request the President of the United States to commence an immediate study to determine the entry into the customs territory of the United States of all steel products that are the products of, or are manufactured in, Australia, China, South Africa, Ukraine, Indonesia, India, Japan, Russia, South Korea or Brazil, to determine whether the governments of those countries are abiding by the spirit and letter of international trade agreements with respect to imports of steel products into the United States, and take all actions necessary to enforce applicable trade agreements and laws of the United States pertaining to steel imports; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we, the members of the Missouri Ninetieth General Assembly, First Regular Session, request the President of the United States to immediately impose a one-year ban on imports of all steel products that are the product of, or are manufactured in, Australia, China, South Africa, Ukraine, Indonesia, India, Japan, Russia, South Korea or Brazil, if the President finds that the governments of those countries are not abiding by the spirit and letter of international trade agreements with respect to imports of steel products in the United States; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we, the members of the Missouri Ninetieth General Assembly, First Regular Session, request the President of the United States to establish a task force within the executive branch to closely monitor imports of steel products to the United States from other countries to determine whether international trade agreements are being violated; and

2. A taxpayer shall be allowed to claim a tax credit against the taxpayer's state tax liability, in an amount equal to fifty percent of the amount such taxpayer contributed to a shelter for victims of domestic violence.

3. The amount of the tax credit claimed shall not exceed the amount of the taxpayer's state tax liability for the taxable year that the credit is claimed, and such taxpayer shall not be allowed to claim a tax credit in excess of fifty thousand dollars per taxable year. However, any tax credit that cannot be claimed in the taxable year the contribution was made may be carried over to the next four succeeding taxable years until the full credit has been claimed.

4. Except for any excess credit which is carried over pursuant to subsection 3 of this section, a taxpayer shall not be allowed to claim a tax credit unless the total amount of such taxpayer's contribution or contributions to a shelter or shelters for victims of domestic violence in such taxpayer's taxable year [is] has a value of at least one hundred dollars.

The director of the department of social services may require of a facility seeking to be classified as a maternity home whatever information is reasonably necessary to make such a determination. The director of the department of social services shall classify a facility as a maternity home if such facility meets the definition set forth in subsection 1 of this section.

7. The director of the department of social services shall establish a procedure by which, from the beginning of the fiscal year until some point in time later in the fiscal year to be determined by the director of the department of social services, the cumulative amount of tax credits are equally apportioned among all facilities classified as maternity homes. If a maternity home fails to use all, or some percentage to be determined by the director of the department of social services, of its apportioned tax credits during this predetermined period of time, the director of the department of social services may reapportion these unused tax credits to those maternity homes that have used all, or some percentage to be determined by the director of the department of social services, of their apportioned tax credits during this predetermined period of time. The director of the department of social services may establish more than one period of time and reapportion more than once during each fiscal year. SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 16

WHEREAS, the Food Quality Protection Act of 1996 was signed into law on August 3, 1996, by President Clinton; and

WHEREAS, the Food Quality Protection Act establishes new safety standards that pesticides must meet to be newly registered or remain on the market; and

WHEREAS, the Food Quality Protection Act requires the Environmental Protection Agency to ensure that all pesticide tolerances meet these new Food Quality Protection Act standards by reassessing one-third of the 9,700 existing pesticide tolerances by August, 1999, and all existing tolerances in ten years; and

WHEREAS, the Food Quality Protection Act changes the types of information the Environmental Protection Agency is required to evaluate in the risk assessment process for establishing tolerances for pesticide residues in food and feed; and

WHEREAS, the Food Quality Protection Act was to assure that pesticide tolerances and policies are formulated in an open and transparent manner; and

WHEREAS, the Food Quality Protection Act further emphasizes the need for reliable information about the volume and types of pesticides being applied to individual crops and what residues can be anticipated on these crops; and

WHEREAS, risk estimates based on sound science and reliable, real-world data are essential to avoid misguided decisions, and the best way for the Environmental Protection Agency to obtain these data is to require data submission by the registrant through the data call-in process; and

WHEREAS, the implementation of the Food Quality Protection Act by the Environmental Protection Agency could have a profound negative impact on domestic agricultural production, and on consumer food prices and availability if products are removed from the market solely because of insufficient data; and

WHEREAS, the removal of these products will result in fewer pest control options for the United States and Missouri and could significantly disrupt successful integrated pest management programs which would be devastating to the economy of our state and jeopardize the very livelihood of many of our agricultural producers; and

WHEREAS, the removal of products because of a lack of information will result in fewer pest control options for urban and suburban uses, with potential losses of personal property, damage to valuable recreational areas and managed green space and increased human health concerns;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate of the Ninetieth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby ask that Congress direct the Environmental Protection Agency to immediately initiate appropriate public rulemaking to ensure that the policies, standards and procedures it intends to apply in reassessing existing pesticide tolerances are subject to public notice and comment prior to final tolerance determinations being made by the agency; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Environmental Protection Agency use sound science and real-world data from the data call-in process in establishing realistic models for evaluating risks; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that Congress direct the Environmental Protection Agency to implement the Food Quality Protection Act in a manner that will not disrupt agricultural production nor negatively impact the availability, diversity, and affordability of food, threaten public health or diminish the quality of valuable recreational areas and managed green spaces; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that Congress immediately conduct oversight hearings to ensure that actions by the Environmental Protection Agency are consistent with the Food Quality Protection Act provisions and Congressional intent; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Missouri Congressional delegation and to the administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency.

Senator Singleton offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 306

WHEREAS, the Missouri Senate is very proud of the diverse heritage and landscape which make up this fine state and always welcomes the opportunity to acknowledge milestone contemporary events which continue to enhance this region's history; and

WHEREAS, on March 3, 1999, the residents of McDonald County will initiate the Sesquicentennial Celebration of their county's founding which was established by an act of the Missouri Legislature on March 3, 1849, after an initial land survey by Nathan Richardson; and

WHEREAS, originally called "Seneca" in 1847, McDonald County now carries the name of Sergeant Alexander McDonald, a soldier who distinguished himself as one of the heroes of the Revolutionary War; and

WHEREAS, located in the southwest corner of the state, McDonald County boasts a 1955 historic highway marker located in Southwest City which marks the border between Missouri, Arkansas, and Oklahoma, and which commemorates the only tricornered part of the state on dry land; and

WHEREAS, Rutledge was the first county seat, but due to some violent incidents the courts moved to the J.C. McKay home in Pineville which became the permanent county seat in 1857 with an official courthouse constructed soon thereafter; and

WHEREAS, McDonald County has enjoyed both fame and notoriety throughout much of its history which documents when the town of Indian Springs earned acclaim in the 1880s as a source of healing waters; the town of Splitlog became infamous as a source of "fool's gold"; Pineville was the 1938 setting for the production of Jesse James, a film that starred Henry Fonda, Randolph Scott, and Tyrone Power; the post office located in the town of Noel became a perennial favorite with holiday mailers for its stamp-cancellation postmark at Christmas time; and a 1961 dispute over the omission of the Elk River-Noel Playground area from the statewide vacation map brought an article of secession to the desk of Governor Dalton, an official proclamation from the General Assembly rejecting the motion to secede, and about a week of national media attention:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninetieth General Assembly, join unanimously to applaud the history and citizens of McDonald County and to offer a word of congratulations as the County celebrates a century and a half as an important territorial division for local government in the great State of Missouri; and

(1) Injuries directly resulting from the negligent acts or omissions by public employees arising out of the operation of motor vehicles or motorized vehicles within the course of their employment;

(2) Injuries caused by the condition of a public entity's property if the plaintiff establishes that the property was in dangerous condition at the time of the injury, that the injury directly resulted from the dangerous condition, that the dangerous condition created a reasonably foreseeable risk of harm of the kind of injury which was incurred, and that either a negligent or wrongful act or omission of an employee of the public entity within the course of his employment created the dangerous condition or a public entity had actual or constructive notice of the dangerous condition in sufficient time prior to the injury to have taken measures to protect against the dangerous condition. SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amend Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 289, Page 7, Section 162.867, Line 25, by inserting immediately after all of said line the following:

"162.1100. 1. There is hereby established within each city not within a county a school district to be known as the "Transitional School District of (name of city)", which shall be a body corporate and politic and a subdivision of the state. The transitional school district shall be coterminous with the boundaries of the city in which the district is located. Except as otherwise provided in this section and section 162.621, the transitional school district shall be subject to all laws pertaining to "seven-director districts", as defined in section 160.011, RSMo. The transitional school district shall have the responsibility for educational programs and policies determined by a final judgment of a federal school desegregation case to be needed in providing for a transition of the educational system of the city from control and jurisdiction of a federal court school desegregation order, decree or agreement and such other programs and policies as designated by the governing body of the school district.

2. (1) The governing board of the transitional school district shall consist of three residents of the district: one shall be appointed by the governing body of the district, one shall be appointed by the mayor of the city not within a county and one shall be appointed by the president of the board of aldermen of the city not within a county. The members of the governing board shall serve without compensation for a term of three years, or until their successors have been appointed, or until the transitional district is dissolved or terminated. Any tax approved for the transitional district shall be assigned to the governing body of the school district in a city not within a county after dissolution or termination of the transitional district.

(2) The state board of education shall make a determination of accreditation status of any district within ninety days of the date of completion of the district's accreditation review by the department of elementary and secondary education. In the event the state board of education is otherwise prohibited from classifying as unaccredited any district, then any resident taxpayer of that district shall have a cause of action to have a court of law declare the school district unaccredited under the uniform criteria established by the state board of education. In such action, the plaintiff must plead a prima facie case that the school district fails to meet the criteria, at which time the burden of proof will be on the school district to show it meets the criteria for accreditation or provisional accreditation, and, if the person bringing such action prevails, such person shall be entitled to reasonable attorney's fees and such other remedies as the court may order, which may include an order that the district be classified as unaccredited. A finding of non-accreditation shall not create additional obligation or liability on the part of the state of Missouri other than that set out below. In the event that the state board of education or any court of this state shall declare the school district of a city not within a county to be unaccredited, the member of the governing board of the transitional district appointed by the governing body of the district as provided in subdivision (1) of this subsection shall, within ninety days, be replaced by a chief executive officer nominated by the state board of education and appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate. The chief executive officer need not be a resident of the district but shall be a person of recognized administrative ability, shall be paid in whole or in part with funds from the district, and shall have all other powers and duties of any other general superintendent of schools, including appointment of staff. The chief executive officer shall serve for a term of three years or until his successor is appointed or until the transitional district is dissolved or terminated. His salary shall be set by the state board of education.

3. In the event that the school district loses its accreditation, upon the appointment of a chief executive officer, any powers granted to any existing school board in a city not within a county on or before August 28, 1998, shall be vested with the special administrative board of the transitional school district containing such school district so long as the transitional school district exists, except as otherwise provided in section 162.621.

4. The special administrative board's powers and duties shall include:

(1) Creating an academic accountability plan, taking corrective action in underperforming schools, and seeking relief from state-mandated programs;

(2) Exploration of alternative forms of governance for the district;

(3) Authority to contract with nonprofit corporations to provide for the operation of schools;

(4) Oversight of facility planning, construction, improvement, repair, maintenance and rehabilitation;

(5) Authority to establish school site councils to facilitate site- based school management and to improve the responsiveness of the schools to the needs of the local geographic attendance region of the school;

(6) Authority to submit a proposal to district voters pursuant to section 162.666 regarding establishment of neighborhood schools.

5. The provisions of a final judgment as to the state of Missouri and its officials in a school desegregation case which subjects a district in which a transitional district is located in this state to a federal court's jurisdiction may authorize or require the governing body of a transitional school district established under this section to establish the transitional district's operating levy for school purposes, as defined pursuant to section 163.011, RSMo, at a level not to exceed eighty-five cents per one hundred dollars assessed valuation in the district or a sales tax equivalent amount as determined by the department of elementary and secondary education which may be substituted for all or part of such property tax. The transitional school district, any other statute to the contrary notwithstanding, shall not be subject to any certificate of tax abatement issued pursuant to sections 99.700 to 99.715, RSMo. Any certificate of abatement issued after August 28, 1998, shall not be applicable to the transitional school district. The transitional school district shall not be subject to the provisions of section 162.081, sections 163.021 and 163.023, RSMo, with respect to any requirements to maintain a minimum value of operating levy or any consequences provided by law for failure to levy at least such minimum rate. No operating levy or increase in the operating levy or sales tax established pursuant to this section shall be collected for a transitional school district unless prior approval is obtained from a simple majority of the district's voters. The board of the transitional district shall place the matter before the voters prior to March 15, 1999.

6. (1) The special administrative board established in this section shall develop, implement, monitor and evaluate a comprehensive school improvement plan, and such plan shall be subject to review and approval of the state board of education. The plan shall ensure that all students meet or exceed grade-level standards established by the state board of education pursuant to section 160.514, RSMo;

(2) The special administrative board shall establish student performance standards consistent with the standards established by the state board of education pursuant to section 160.514, RSMo, for preschool through grade twelve in all skill and subject areas, subject to review and approval of the state board of education for the purpose of determining whether the standards are consistent with standards established by the state board of education pursuant to section 160.514, RSMo;

(3) All students in the district who do not achieve grade-level standards shall be required to attend summer school; except that the provisions of this subsection shall not apply to students receiving special education services pursuant to sections 162.670 to 162.999;

(4) No student shall be promoted to a higher grade level unless that student has a reading ability at or above one grade level below the student's grade level; except that the provisions of this subsection shall not apply to students receiving special education services pursuant to sections 162.670 to 162.999;

(5) The special administrative board established in this section shall develop, implement and annually update a professional development plan for teachers and other support staff, subject to review and approval of the state board of education.

7. The school improvement plan established pursuant to this section shall ensure open enrollment and program access to all students in the district, and, consistent with the Missouri and United States Constitutions, shall give first priority to residents of the city for admission to magnet schools. The school board shall take all practicable and constitutionally permissible steps to ensure that all magnet schools operate at full capacity. Students who change residence within the district shall be allowed to continue to attend the school in which they were initially enrolled for the remainder of their education at grade levels served by that school, and transportation shall be provided by the district to allow such students to continue to attend such school of initial enrollment.

8. To the extent practicable, the special administrative board shall ensure that per pupil expenditures and pupil-teacher ratios shall be the same for all schools serving students at a given grade level.

9. The special administrative board shall ensure that early childhood education is available throughout the district.

10. The special administrative board shall ensure that vocational education instruction is provided within the district.

11. The special administrative board shall establish an accountability officer whose duty shall be to ensure that academically deficient schools within the district are raised to acceptable condition within two years.

12. The transitional school district in any city not within a county shall be dissolved on July 1, 2008, unless the state board determines, prior to that date, that it is necessary for the transitional district to continue to accomplish the purposes for which it was created. The state board of education may cause the termination of the transitional school district at any time upon a determination that the transitional district has accomplished the purposes for which it was established and is no longer needed. The state board of education may cause the reestablishment of the transitional school district at any time upon a determination that it is necessary for the transitional district to be reestablished to accomplish the purposes established in this section. The state board of education shall provide notice to the governor and general assembly of the termination or reestablishment of the transitional school district and the termination or reestablishment shall become effective thirty days following such determination. Upon dissolution of a transitional school district pursuant to this section, nothing in this section shall be construed to reduce or eliminate any power or duty of any school district or districts containing the territory of the dissolved transitional school district unless such transitional school district is reestablished by the state board of education pursuant to this section."; and

Further amend said bill, Page 9, Section 3, Line 18 of said page, by inserting immediately after said line the following:

"Section 2. 1. In the event a court of this state through a final ruling declares senate bill no. 417 of the ninetieth general assembly, first regular session, or a portion thereof invalid, a cause of action shall be filed by the attorney general on behalf of the state of Missouri and other appropriate parties, if applicable, in a state or federal court of appropriate jurisdiction testing the constitutionality of the master settlement agreement, entered into by the attorney general on behalf of the state.

2. The attorney general shall request injunctive relief for any monetary penalties provided for in the master settlement agreement which Missouri is or might be subject to as specified in the master settlement agreement as a result of the court's ruling, and shall specifically ask the court for an order commanding continued compliance with senate bill no. 417 of the ninetieth general assembly, first regular session, during the pendency of the suit. Such action shall allege, including but not limited to, that the provisions of the master settlement agreement are unconstitutional under either state and/or federal law.

3. In the event a "participating manufacturer" as defined in the master settlement agreement initiates, assists, or in any way contributes to any cause of action that leads to a court's ruling senate bill no. 417 of the ninetieth general assembly, first regular session, or any portion thereof is unconstitutional, then that "participating manufacturer" will have consented to have voluntarily withdrawn their participation from the master settlement agreement, and shall be subject to the full force and effect of the laws of the state of Missouri. In the event that this subsection is applicable, then the attorney general shall institute litigation regarding the "participating manufacturer's" sale, distribution, production, or any related behavior thereof, of the "participating manufacturers" tobacco products sold to the citizens of this state.

4. In the event a "participating manufacturer" as defined in the master settlement agreement initiates, assists, or in any way contributes to any cause of action that leads to a court's ruling senate bill no. 417 of the ninetieth general assembly, first regular session, or any portion thereof is unconstitutional, then the state of Missouri shall be released from any restrictions as are contained in the master settlement agreement, and any "participating manufacturers" shall be subject to the full force and effect of the laws of the state of Missouri. In the event that this subsection is applicable, then the attorney general shall institute litigation regarding any "participating manufacturer's" sale, distribution, production, or any related behavior thereof, of any "participating manufacturers" tobacco products sold to the citizens of this state.

5. In the event a "non-participating manufacturer" as defined in the master settlement agreement initiates, assists, or in any way contributes to any cause of action that leads to a court's ruling senate bill no. 417 of the ninetieth general assembly, first regular session, or any portion thereof is unconstitutional, then that "non-participating manufacturer" will have consented to have voluntarily withdrawn their participation from the master settlement agreement, or from the application of senate bill no. 417 of the ninetieth general assembly, first regular session, and shall be subject to the full force and effect of the laws of the state of Missouri. In the event that this subsection is applicable, then the attorney general shall institute litigation regarding the "non-participating manufacturer's" sale, distribution, production, or any related behavior thereof, of the "non-participating manufacturers" tobacco products sold to the citizens of this state. In the event of the applicability of this subsection, any revenue placed into an applicable escrow fund as called for in senate bill no. 417 of the ninetieth general assembly, first regular session, shall be forfeited to the state and deposited to the credit of the school trust fund.

6. In the event a "non-participating manufacturer" as defined in the master settlement agreement initiates, assists, or in any way contributes to any cause of action that leads to a court's ruling senate bill no. 417 of the ninetieth general assembly, first regular session, or any portion thereof is unconstitutional, then the state of Missouri shall be released from any restrictions as are contained in the master settlement agreement, and any "non-participating manufacturers" shall be subject to the full force and effect of the laws of the state of Missouri. In the event that this subsection is applicable, then the attorney general shall institute litigation regarding any "non-participating manufacturer's" sale, distribution, production, or any related behavior thereof, of any "non-participating manufacturers" tobacco products sold to the citizens of this state.

Section 3. 1. Sections 3 to 7 of this act shall be known and may be cited as the "Tobacco Manufacturers Medicaid Responsibility Act".

2. For purposes of sections 3 to 7 of this act, the following terms shall mean:

(1) "Tobacco manufacturer", any person engaged in the process of designing, fabricating, assembling, producing, constructing or otherwise preparing tobacco products, including packaging or labeling of such products, with the intended purpose of selling the product for gain or profit. Tobacco manufacturer does not include persons whose activity is limited to growing natural leaf tobacco or selling tobacco products at wholesale or retail to customers;

(2) "Tobacco product", any product containing or derived from tobacco leaf that is designed or commonly used for smoking or chewing.

Section 4. 1. To the extent that the department of social services provides, has provided, or is likely to provide, any medical assistance pursuant to this chapter for any injury, disease or disability arising from or connected with the use of any tobacco product, the state shall be entitled to full recovery from any tobacco manufacturer for the full amount paid, or likely to be paid in the future, for such medical assistance and for any other relief, including punitive damages, legal and administrative fees and expenses.

2. An action may be brought to obtain such recovery either in the name of the attorney general, the state or the department of social services, and may be brought in any county of the state where any such medical services have been provided.

3. The right of the department, the state or the attorney general to bring such an action against a tobacco manufacturer pursuant to this section shall be independent of and not construed to affect any rights or causes of action by the individual recipient to recover damages as a result of a tobacco-related health condition.

4. Existing common law and statutory actions available to the attorney general, the state or the department to recover Medicaid expenditures from a tobacco manufacturer, including direct actions or actions in subrogation to the rights of the Medicaid recipient, are expressly preserved. Any action brought pursuant to sections 3 to 7 of this act may be brought in addition to any existing common law or statutory action, or both, and shall not preempt or extinguish such actions.

Section 5. 1. In any action brought pursuant to sections 3 to 7 of this act:

(1) Principles of common law and equity regarding assignment, lien, subrogation, comparative negligence, assumption of risk and other affirmative defenses normally available to a defendant are abrogated to the extent necessary to ensure full recovery;

(2) Joint and several liability applies to any judgment obtained against more than one tobacco manufacturer;

(3) The state, the department or the attorney general shall be permitted to proceed under a market share theory, provided that the tobacco products involved are substantially interchangeable among brands, and substantially similar factual and legal issues would be involved in seeking recovery against each individual tobacco manufacturer. In the event the state elects to proceed under a market share theory, the concept of joint and several liability shall not apply;

(4) The state, the department or the attorney general may bring an action to recover amounts paid for medical services rendered to any one Medicaid recipient or, where such an action may involve common questions of law or fact, for any identifiable class of Medicaid recipients. Where recovery is sought for services rendered to a class of Medicaid recipients, the identity of each individual recipient for which payment has been made shall not be required to be disclosed and recovery shall be based on the total of payments made on behalf of the entire class as such;

(5) The rules of evidence shall be liberally construed and applied regarding the issues of causation and damages and, notwithstanding any substantive or procedural rule of law to the contrary, the issues of causation and damages in any such action may be proved by the use of statistical analysis alone;

(6) No defendant tobacco manufacturer shall be entitled to any offset against the state's damages in the amount of any tax revenue from the sale of cigarettes that the state may have received, nor shall any defendant tobacco manufacturer be entitled to any offset against the state's damages in the amount of the cost of the medical services that the state might have had to provide with respect to any single Medicaid recipient or class of Medicaid recipients had such recipient or recipients not been killed by, or in part because of, the tobacco manufacturer's tobacco products.

2. The state, the department or the attorney general may bring an action pursuant to sections 3 to 7 of this act within the later of five years after the first medical service for a tobacco-related illness, injury or disability is provided to the Medicaid recipient, or five years after the death of such recipient. Where the action is to recover for medical services rendered to a class of Medicaid recipients, the action is timely if brought within the later of five years after the first provision of services to any member of the class or five years after the death of the last surviving member of the class.

Section 6. If any provision of sections 3 to 7 of this act is ruled void or unenforceable for any reason, the courts shall be authorized to fashion the minimally necessary remedy to render the provision enforceable and shall give full effect to all other provisions of sections 3 to 7 of this act.

Section 7. It is the intent of the legislature that sections 3 to 7 of this act be deemed applicable to any action by the state, the attorney general or the department against any tobacco manufacturer that is filed after or pending at the time sections 3 to 7 of this act become effective.

Section 8. Sections 3 to 7 of this act shall become effective upon notice to the revisor of statutes by the attorney general that he has initiated a cause of action pursuant to section 2 of this act."; and

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Ehlmann offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 18

WHEREAS, the United States Constitution requires an actual enumeration of the population every ten years, and entrusts Congress with overseeing all aspects of each decennial enumeration; and

WHEREAS, the sole constitutional purpose of the decennial census is to apportion the seats in Congress among the several states; and

WHEREAS, an accurate and legal decennial census is necessary to properly apportion United States House of Representatives seats among the 50 states and to create legislative districts within the states; and

WHEREAS, an accurate and legal decennial census is necessary to enable states to comply with the constitutional mandate of drawing state legislative districts within the states; and

WHEREAS, Article I, Section 2 of the United States Constitution, in order to ensure an accurate count, and to minimize the potential for political manipulation, mandates an "actual enumeration" of the population, which requires a physical headcount of the population and prohibits statistical guessing or estimates of the population; and

WHEREAS, Title 13, Section 195 of the United States Code, consistent with this constitutional mandate, expressly prohibits the use of statistical sampling to enumerate the United States population for the purpose of reapportioning the United States House of Representatives; and

WHEREAS, legislative redistricting conducted by the states is a critical subfunction of the constitutional requirement to apportion representatives among the states; and

WHEREAS, the United States Supreme Court, in No. 98-404, Department of Commerce, et al. v. United States House of Representatives, et al., together with No. 98-564, Clinton, President of the United States, et al. v. Glavin, et al., ruled on January 25, 1999, that the Census Act prohibits the Census Bureau's proposed uses of statistical sampling in calculating the population for purposes of apportionment; and

WHEREAS, in reaching its findings, the United States Supreme Court found that the use of statistical procedures to adjust census numbers would create a dilution of voting rights for citizens in legislative redistricting, thus violating legal guarantees of "one person, one vote"; and

WHEREAS, consistent with this ruling and the constitutional and legal relationship of legislative redistricting by the states to the apportionment of the United States House of Representatives, the use of adjusted census data would raise serious questions of vote dilution and violate "one person, one vote" legal protections, thus exposing the State of Missouri to protracted litigation over legislative redistricting plans to great cost to the taxpayers of the State of Missouri, and likely result in a court ruling invalidating any legislative redistricting plan using census numbers that have been determined in whole or in part by the use of random sampling techniques or other statistical methodologies that add or subtract persons to the census counts based solely on statistical inference; and

WHEREAS, consistent with this ruling, no person enumerated in the census should ever be deleted from the census enumeration; and

WHEREAS, consistent with this ruling, every reasonable and practical effort should be made to obtain the fullest and most accurate count of the population as possible, including appropriate funding for state and local census outreach and education programs, as well as a provision for post census local review:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Missouri Senate, Ninetieth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, calls on the Bureau of the Census to conduct the 2000 decennial census consistent with the aforementioned United States Supreme Court ruling and constitutional mandate, which require a physical headcount of the population and bars the use of statistical sampling to create, or in any way adjust the count; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Missouri Senate, Ninetieth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, opposes the use of P.L. 94-171 data for state legislative redistricting based on census numbers that have been determined in whole or in part by the use of statistical inferences derived by means of random sampling techniques or other statistical methodologies that add or subtract persons to the census counts; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Missouri Senate, Ninetieth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, demands that it receive P.L. 94-171 data for legislative redistricting identical to the census tabulation data used to apportion seats in the United States House of Representatives consistent with the aforementioned United States Supreme Court ruling and constitutional mandate, which require a physical headcount of the population and bars the use of statistical sampling to create, or in any way adjust the count; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Missouri Senate, Ninetieth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, urges Congress, as the branch of government assigned the responsibility of overseeing the decennial enumeration, to take whatever steps are necessary to ensure that the 2000 decennial census is conducted fairly and legally; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, Majority Leader of the United States Senate, and the Vice President and President of the United States.

A "motor vehicle liability policy" as said term is used in this chapter shall mean an owner's or an operator's policy of liability insurance, certified as provided in section 303.170 or section 303.180 as proof of financial responsibility, and issued, except as otherwise provided in section 303.180 by an insurance carrier duly authorized to transact business in this state, to or for the benefit of the person named therein as insured.

2. Such owner's policy of liability insurance:

(1) Shall designate by explicit description or by appropriate reference all motor vehicles with respect to which coverage is thereby to be granted; [and]

(2) Shall insure the person named therein and any other person, as insured, using any such motor vehicle or motor vehicles with the express or implied permission of such named insured, against loss from the liability imposed by law for damages arising out of the ownership, maintenance or use of such motor vehicle or motor vehicles within the United States of America or the Dominion of Canada, subject to limits, exclusive of interest and costs, with respect to each such motor vehicle, as follows: twenty-five thousand dollars because of bodily injury to or death of one person in any one accident and, subject to said limit for one person, fifty thousand dollars because of bodily injury to or death of two or more persons in any one accident, and ten thousand dollars because of injury to or destruction of property of others in any one accident; and

(3) May exclude coverage against loss from liability imposed by law for damages arising out of the use of such motor vehicles by a member of the named insured's household who is a specifically excluded driver in the policy.

3. Such operator's policy of liability insurance shall insure the person named as insured therein against loss from the liability imposed upon him by law for damages arising out of the use by him of any motor vehicle not owned by him, within the said territorial limits and subject to the same limits of liability as are set forth above with respect to any owner's policy of liability insurance.

4. Such motor vehicle liability policy shall state the name and address of the named insured, the coverage afforded by the policy, the premium charged therefor, the policy period and the limits of liability, and shall contain an agreement or be endorsed that insurance is provided thereunder in accordance with the coverage defined in this chapter as respects bodily injury and death or property damage, or both, and is subject to all the provisions of this chapter.

5. Such motor vehicle liability policy need not insure any liability under any workers' compensation law nor any liability on account of bodily injury to or death of an employee of the insured while engaged in the employment, other than domestic, of the insured, or while engaged in the operation, maintenance or repair of any such motor vehicle nor any liability for damage to property owned by, rented to, in charge of or transported by the insured.

(2) The satisfaction by the insured of a judgment for such injury or damage shall not be a condition precedent to the right or duty of the insurance carrier to make payment on account of such injury or damage;

(3) The insurance carrier shall have the right to settle any claim covered by the policy, and if such settlement is made in good faith, the amount thereof shall be deductible from the limits of liability specified in subdivision (2) of subsection 2 of this section;

(4) The policy, the written application thereof, if any, and any rider or endorsement which does not conflict with the provisions of this chapter shall constitute the entire contract between the parties.

7. Any policy which grants the coverage required for a motor vehicle liability policy may also grant any lawful coverage in excess of or in addition to the coverage specified for a motor vehicle liability policy and such excess or additional coverage shall not be subject to the provisions of this chapter. With respect to a policy which grants such excess or additional coverage the term "motor vehicle liability policy" shall apply only to that part of the coverage which is required by this section.

8. Any motor vehicle liability policy may provide that the insured shall reimburse the insurance carrier for any payment the insurance carrier would not have been obligated to make under the terms of the policy except for the provisions of this chapter.

"301.190. 1. No certificate of registration of any motor vehicle or trailer, or number plate therefor, shall be issued by the director of revenue unless the applicant therefor shall make application for and be granted a certificate of ownership of such motor vehicle or trailer, or shall present satisfactory evidence that such certificate has been previously issued to the applicant for such motor vehicle or trailer. Application shall be made within thirty days after the applicant acquires the motor vehicle or trailer upon a blank form furnished by the director of revenue and shall contain the applicant's identification number, a full description of the motor vehicle or trailer, the vehicle identification number, and the mileage registered on the odometer at the time of transfer of ownership, as required by section 407.536, RSMo, together with a statement of the applicant's source of title and of any liens or encumbrances on the motor vehicle or trailer, provided that for good cause shown the director of revenue may extend the period of time for making such application.

2. The director of revenue shall use reasonable diligence in ascertaining whether the facts stated in such application are true and shall, to the extent possible without substantially delaying processing of the application, review any odometer information pertaining to such motor vehicle that is accessible to the director of revenue. If satisfied that the applicant is the lawful owner of such motor vehicle or trailer, or otherwise entitled to have the same registered in his name, the director shall thereupon issue an appropriate certificate over his signature and sealed with the seal of his office, procured and used for such purpose. The certificate shall contain on its face a complete description, vehicle identification number, and other evidence of identification of the motor vehicle or trailer, as the director of revenue may deem necessary, together with the odometer information required to be put on the face of the certificate pursuant to section 407.536, RSMo, a statement of any liens or encumbrances which the application may show to be thereon, and, if ownership of the vehicle has been transferred, the name of the state issuing the transferor's title and whether the transferor's odometer mileage statement executed pursuant to section 407.536, RSMo, indicated that the true mileage is materially different from the number of miles shown on the odometer, or is unknown.

3. The director of revenue shall appropriately designate on the current and all subsequent issues of the certificate the words "Reconstructed Motor Vehicle", "Motor Change Vehicle", "Specially Constructed Motor Vehicle", or "Non-USA-Std Motor Vehicle", as defined in section 301.010. Effective July 1, 1990, on all original and all subsequent issues of the certificate for motor vehicles as referenced in subsections 2 and 3 of section 301.020, the director shall print on the face thereof the following designation: "Annual odometer updates may be available from the department of revenue." On any duplicate certificate, the director of revenue shall reprint on the face thereof the most recent of either:

(1) The mileage information included on the face of the immediately prior certificate and the date of purchase or issuance of the immediately prior certificate; or

(2) Any other mileage information provided to the director of revenue, and the date the director obtained or recorded that information.

4. The certificate of ownership issued by the director of revenue shall be manufactured in a manner to prohibit as nearly as possible the ability to alter, counterfeit, duplicate, or forge such certificate without ready detection. In order to carry out the requirements of this subsection, the director of revenue may contract with a nonprofit scientific or educational institution specializing in the analysis of secure documents to determine the most effective methods of rendering Missouri certificates of ownership nonalterable or noncounterfeitable.

5. The fee for each original certificate so issued shall be eight dollars and fifty cents, in addition to the fee for registration of such motor vehicle or trailer. If application for the certificate is not made within thirty days after the vehicle is acquired by the applicant, a delinquency penalty fee of twenty-five dollars for the first thirty days of delinquency and twenty-five dollars for each thirty days of delinquency thereafter, not to exceed a total of one hundred dollars, shall be imposed, but such penalty may be waived by the director for a good cause shown. If the director of revenue learns that any person has failed to obtain a certificate within thirty days after acquiring a motor vehicle or trailer or has sold a vehicle without obtaining a certificate, he shall cancel the registration of all vehicles registered in the name of the person, either as sole owner or as a co-owner, and shall notify the person that the cancellation will remain in force until the person pays the delinquency penalty fee provided in this section, together with all fees, charges and payments which he should have paid in connection with the certificate of ownership and registration of the vehicle. The certificate shall be good for the life of the motor vehicle or trailer so long as the same is owned or held by the original holder of the certificate and shall not have to be renewed annually.

6. Any application for a certificate of ownership requesting the department of revenue to process an application for a certificate of ownership in an expeditious manner requiring special handling shall pay a fee of five dollars in addition to the regular certificate of ownership fee.

7. It is unlawful for any person to operate in this state a motor vehicle or trailer required to be registered under the provisions of the law unless a certificate of ownership has been issued as herein provided.

8. Before an original Missouri certificate of ownership is issued, an inspection of the vehicle and a verification of vehicle identification numbers shall be made by the Missouri state highway patrol on vehicles for which there is a current title issued by another state if a Missouri salvage certificate of title has been issued for the same vehicle but no prior inspection and verification has been made in this state, except that if such vehicle has been inspected in another state by a law enforcement officer in a manner comparable to the inspection process in this state and the vehicle identification numbers have been so verified, the applicant shall not be liable for the twenty-five dollar inspection fee if such applicant submits proof of inspection and vehicle identification number verification to the director of revenue at the time of the application. The applicant, who has such a title for a vehicle on which no prior inspection and verification have been made, shall pay a fee of twenty-five dollars for such verification and inspection, payable to the director of revenue at the time of the request for the application, which shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the state highway fund.

9. Each application for an original Missouri certificate of ownership for a vehicle which is classified as a reconstructed motor vehicle, specially constructed motor vehicle, kit vehicle, motor change vehicle, non-USA-std motor vehicle, or other vehicle as required by the director of revenue, shall be accompanied by a vehicle examination certificate issued by the Missouri state highway patrol, or other law enforcement agency as authorized by the director of revenue. The vehicle examination shall include a verification of vehicle identification numbers and a determination of the classification of the vehicle. The owner of a vehicle which requires a vehicle examination certificate shall present the vehicle for examination and obtain a completed vehicle examination certificate prior to submitting an application for a certificate of ownership to the director of revenue. The fee for the vehicle examination application shall be twenty-five dollars and shall be collected by the director of revenue at the time of the request for the application and shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the state highway fund.

10. When an application is made for an original Missouri certificate of ownership for a motor vehicle previously registered or titled in a state other than Missouri, it shall be accompanied by a current inspection form certified by a duly authorized official inspection station as described in chapter 307, RSMo. The completed form shall certify that the manufacturer's identification number for the vehicle has been inspected, that it is correctly displayed on the vehicle and shall certify the reading shown on the odometer at the time of inspection. The inspection station shall collect the same fee as authorized in section 307.365, RSMo, for making the inspection, and the fee shall be deposited in the same manner as provided in section 307.365, RSMo. If the vehicle is also to be registered in Missouri, the safety and emissions inspections required in chapter 307, RSMo, shall be completed and only the fees required by sections 307.365 and 307.366, RSMo, shall be charged to the owner. This section shall not apply to vehicles being transferred on a manufacturer's statement of origin.

11. Motor vehicles brought into this state in a wrecked or damaged condition or after being towed as an abandoned vehicle under another state's abandoned motor vehicle procedures, shall, in lieu of the inspection required by subsection 10 of section 301.190, RSMo, be inspected by the Missouri state highway patrol in accordance with subsection 9 of section 301.190, RSMo. If the inspection reveals the vehicle to be in a salvage or junk condition, the director shall so indicate on any Missouri certificate of ownership issued for such vehicle. Any salvage designation shall be carried forward on all subsequently issued certificates of title for the motor vehicle.

12. When an application is made for an original Missouri certificate of ownership for a motor vehicle previously registered or titled in a state other than Missouri, and the certificate of ownership has been appropriately designated by the issuing state as reconstructed motor vehicle, motor change vehicle, specially constructed motor vehicle, the director of revenue shall appropriately designate on the current Missouri and all subsequent issues of the certificate of ownership the name of the issuing state and such prior designation.

[12.] 13. When an application is made for an original Missouri certificate of ownership for a motor vehicle previously registered or titled in a state other than Missouri, and the certificate of ownership has been appropriately designated by the issuing state as non-USA-std motor vehicle, the director of revenue shall appropriately designate on the current Missouri and all subsequent issues of the certificate of ownership the words "Non-USA-Std Motor Vehicle".

[13.] 14. The director of revenue and the superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol shall make and enforce rules for the administration of the inspections required by this section."; and

Further amend said bill, Page 32, Section 303.179, Line 13 of said page, by inserting after all of said line the following:

The towing company must certify that a physical search of the abandoned property disclosed that no ownership documents were found and a good faith effort has been made. For purposes of this section, good faith effort means that the following checks have been performed by the company to establish the prior state of registration and title:

(1) Check of the abandoned property for any type of license plates, license plate record, temporary permit, inspection sticker, decal or other evidence which may indicate a state of possible registration and title;

(2) Check the law enforcement report for a license plate number or registration number if the abandoned property was towed at the request of a law enforcement agency;

(3) Check the tow ticket/report of the tow truck operator to see if a license plate was on the abandoned property at the beginning of the tow, if a private tow; and

(4) If there is no address of the owner on the impound report, check the law enforcement report to see if an out-of-state address is indicated on the driver license information.

4. If no ownership information is discovered, the director of revenue shall be notified in writing and title obtained in accordance with subsection [6] 7 of this section.

5. Upon the posting of the bond and the payment of the applicable fees, the court shall issue an order notifying the towing company of the posting of the bond and directing the towing company to release the abandoned property. At the time of such release, after reasonable inspection, the owner or lienholder shall give a receipt to the towing company reciting any claims for loss or damage to the abandoned property or the contents thereof.

(3) Upon determining the respective rights of the parties, the final order of the court shall provide for immediate payment in full of recovery, towing, and storage fees by the abandoned property owner or lienholder or the owner, lessee, or agent thereof of the real property from which the abandoned property was removed.

6. A towing and/or storage lien shall be enforced as provided in subsection 7 of this section.

7. Thirty days after the notification form has been mailed to the abandoned property owner and holder of a security agreement and the property is unredeemed and no satisfactory arrangement has been made with the lienholder in

The application for title shall be accompanied by:

Such bill of sale shall contain the make and model of the abandoned property, the complete abandoned property identification number and the odometer reading of the abandoned property if available and shall be lawful proof of ownership for any dealer registered under the provisions of section 301.218, RSMo, or section 301.560, RSMo, or for any other person. Any dealer or other person purchasing such property from a municipality or county shall apply within thirty days of purchase for [a junking certificate or salvage certificate of title designated with the words "salvage/abandoned property"] a certificate. Anyone convicted of a violation of this section shall be guilty of an infraction.

11. Any persons who have towed abandoned property prior to August 28, 1996, may, [within one year after August 28, 1996] until January 1, 2000, apply to the department of revenue for [either a junking certificate or a salvage certificate of title designated with the words "salvage/abandoned property" to such property] a certificate. (5) A copy of the thirty-day notice given by certified mail to any owner and person holding a valid security interest of record and a copy of the certified mail receipt.

12. If the director is satisfied with the genuineness of the application and supporting documents submitted pursuant to this section, the director shall issue [a salvage certificate of title designated with the words "salvage/abandoned property" or a junking certificate.] one of the following:

- (1) An original certificate of title if the vehicle owner has obtained a vehicle examination certificate as provided in section 301.190, RSMo, which indicates that the vehicle was not previously in a salvaged condition or rebuilt;
- (2) An original certificate of title designated as prior salvage if the vehicle examination certificate as provided in section 301.190, RSMo, indicates the vehicle was previously in a salvage condition or rebuilt;
- (3) A salvage certificate of title designated with the words "salvage/abandoned property" or junking certificate based on the condition of the abandoned property as stated in the abandoned property report or crime inquiry and inspection report;
- (4) Notwithstanding the provision of section 301.573, RSMo, to the contrary, if satisfied with the genuineness of the application and supporting documents, the director shall issue an original title to abandoned property previously issued a salvage title as provided in this section, if the vehicle examination certificate as provided in section 301.190, RSMo, does not indicate the abandoned property was previously in a salvage condition or rebuilt.

13. If the proceeds obtained by the towing company from sale of the abandoned property exceed the reasonable costs of towing and storage as allowed by law and the costs of retitling such property by more than one thousand dollars, such proceeds in excess of the costs and one thousand dollars shall be deposited with the state treasurer as unclaimed property pursuant to chapter 447, RSMo. The towing company shall include the last known address and any other identifying information about the owner and any lienholder if known who had an interest in the abandoned property at the time the towing company applied for title. The treasurer shall publish notice under section 447.541, RSMo, as required for other unclaimed property.

14. If abandoned property is insured and the insurer of property regards the property as a total loss and the insurer satisfies a claim by the owner for the property, then the insurer or lienholder shall claim and remove the property from the storage facility or make arrangements to transfer the title, and such transfer of title subject to agreement shall be in complete satisfaction of all claims for towing and storage, to the towing company or storage facility. The owner of the abandoned vehicle, lienholder or insurer, to the extent the vehicle owner's insurance policy covers towing and storage charges, shall pay reasonable fees assessed by the towing company and storage facility. The property shall be claimed and removed or title transferred to the towing company or storage facility within thirty days of the date that the insurer paid a claim for the total loss of the property or is notified as to the location of the abandoned property, whichever is the later event. Upon request, the insurer of the property shall supply the towing company and storage facility with the name, address and phone number of the insurance company and of the insured and with a statement regarding which party is responsible for the payment of towing and storage charges under the insurance policy.

The cost of the forms shall be determined by the department of revenue. The completed form shall be issued by the authorizing officer to the tow operator for that company's records as proof of authorization to tow a particular vehicle.]

6. Any towing company which tows abandoned property without authorization from a law enforcement officer pursuant to subsection 4 of this section shall deliver a copy of the abandoned property report to the local law enforcement agency having jurisdiction over the location from which the abandoned property was towed. The copy may be produced and sent by facsimile machine or other device which produces a near exact likeness of the print and signatures required, but only if the law enforcement agency receiving the report has the technological capability of receiving such copy and has registered the towing company for such purpose. The report shall be delivered within two hours if the tow was made from a signed location under subdivision (1) of subsection 4; otherwise, the report shall be delivered within twenty-four hours.

[4.] 7. The law enforcement agency receiving such abandoned property report must record the date on which the abandoned property report is filed with such agency and [within five days of such filing] shall promptly make an inquiry into the national crime information center and any statewide Missouri law enforcement computer system to determine if the abandoned property has been reported as stolen. If the abandoned property is not claimed within ten working days, the towing company shall send a copy of the abandoned property report signed by a law enforcement officer to the department of revenue.

[8.] 9. If any owner or lessee of real property knowingly authorizes the removal of abandoned property in violation

[pursuant to subsection 2 of this section and such property is so removed and no sign is displayed prior to such removal as required pursuant to subsection 2] of this section, then the owner or lessee shall be deemed guilty of a class C misdemeanor.

304.158. 1. 2. Any owner of any private real [estate] property causing the removal of abandoned property from that real [estate] property shall state the grounds for the removal of the abandoned property if requested by the registered owner of that abandoned property. Any towing company that lawfully removes abandoned property from private property with the written authorization of the property owner or the property owner's agent who is present at the time of removal shall not be held responsible in any situation relating to the validity of the removal. Any towing company that removes abandoned property at the direction of the landowner shall be responsible for:

4. Any owner of any private property causing the removal of abandoned property parked on that property is liable to the owner of the abandoned property for double the storage or towing charges whenever there has been a failure to comply with the requirements of this section or [to state the grounds for the removal of the property if requested by the registered owner of the abandoned property as required by subsection 2 of this section] section 304.157.

5. Any towing company which tows abandoned property for hire shall have the towing company's name, city and state clearly printed in letters at least three inches in height on the sides of the truck, wrecker or other vehicle used in the towing.

6. A towing company may impose a charge of not more than one-half of the regular towing charge for the towing of abandoned property at the request of the owner of private property or that owner's agent pursuant to this section if the owner of the abandoned property or the owner's agent returns to the abandoned property before it is removed from the private property. The regular towing charge may only be imposed after the abandoned property has been removed from the property and is in transit.

7. Persons operating or in charge of any storage facility where the abandoned property is stored pursuant to this section shall accept cash for payment of towing and storage by a registered owner or the owner's agent claiming the abandoned property. [Persons operating or in charge of any storage facility which is not operated by the state, a county or municipality, which is located in an area with a population in excess of fifty thousand at a density at or greater than one thousand persons per square mile, and where the abandoned property is stored pursuant to this section shall accept a valid bank credit card for payment of towing and storage by a registered owner or the owner's agent claiming the abandoned property, except where the tow and impoundment of the abandoned property was the result of an arrest or accident whereby the towing company or storage facility may then demand payment in the form of cash. A person operating or in charge of such storage facility who refuses to accept a valid bank credit card pursuant to this subsection is liable to the registered owner of the abandoned property for four times the amount of the towing and storage charges, but not to exceed five hundred dollars.] In addition, persons operating or in charge of the storage facility shall have sufficient moneys on the premises to accommodate, and make change in, a reasonable monetary transaction.

8. [A] Except for the removal of abandoned property authorized by a law enforcement agency under section 304.157, a towing company shall not remove or commence the removal of abandoned property from private property without first obtaining written authorization from the property owner. All written authorizations shall be maintained for at least one year by the towing company. Any county, city, town or village may enact ordinances or orders which are consistent with sections 304.155 to 304.158 and which may specify maximum reasonable towing, storage and other charges which can be imposed by towing and storage companies operating within the governmental entity's jurisdiction.

11. Any person who knowingly violates any provision of sections 304.155 to 304.158 shall be guilty of a class A misdemeanor. Any violation of the provisions of this section shall constitute a violation of the provisions of section 407.020, RSMo. In any proceeding brought by the attorney general for a violation of the provisions of this section, the court may, in addition to imposing the penalties provided for in this section order the revocation or suspension of the registration or license of the towing company.

304.159. 1. Any city, town, or village within this state may prohibit, by ordinance, the storage of inoperable vehicles or other vehicles deemed by such city, town, or village to constitute a public safety hazard. Nothing in this section shall apply to a vehicle which is completely enclosed within a locked building or locked fenced area and not visible from adjacent public or private property, nor to any vehicle upon the property of a business licensed as salvage, swap, junk dealer, towing or storage facility so long as the business is operated in compliance with its business license and the property is in compliance with applicable zoning ordinances.

2. Upon a showing of probable cause of the existence of such inoperable or hazardous vehicles by the sworn application of any law enforcement official or code official designated by the city, town or village, the municipal judges of any city, town, or village are hereby authorized to issue to law enforcement officials and code officials warrants to enter private premises for inspection and abatement of such conditions by towing or otherwise.";

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Pro Tem Quick in the Chair.

The Reverend Carl R. Gauck offered the following prayer:

Gracious and Merciful God: Here we again gather and pray for Your angelic zeal that we might be about the tasks required of us this week. Support us and guide us as we struggle with decisions that must be made to produce the greatest good we are capable of providing. And we pray for Lester Marcum, our Sergeant-at-Arms, that You might walk with him and with his family as they have just begun their journey of grief that is as long and painful as the depth of their love for Nathalia. This we ask in Your Holy Name. Amen.

For the purposes of this section, a floating dock that is not owned by an electrical or gas corporation but which is attached to real property owned by an electrical or gas corporation shall be treated as residential property of the owner or owners of the floating dock and not as residential property of the electrical or gas corporation. Residential property shall not include other similar facilities used primarily for transient housing. For the purposes of this section, transient housing means all rooms available for rent or lease for which the receipts from the rent or lease of such rooms are subject to state sales tax pursuant to section 144.020.1(6), RSMo;

For purposes of this section, loss in revenue shall include the difference between the revenue that would have been collected on such property under its classification prior to enactment of this section and the amount to be collected under its classification under this section. - (6) Size of such property;

Any person aggrieved by the decision of the commission may seek review as provided in chapter 536, RSMo.

2. In order to investigate such appeals, the commission may inquire of the owner of the property or of any other party to the appeal regarding any matter or issue relevant to the valuation, subclassification or assessment of the property. The commission may make its decision regarding the assessment or valuation of the property based solely upon its inquiry and any evidence presented by the parties to the commission, or based solely upon evidence presented by the parties to the commission. 3. Every owner of real property or tangible personal property shall have the right to appeal to the circuit court of the county in which the collector maintains his office, from the decision of the local board of equalization not later than thirty days after the final decision of the board of equalization concerning all questions and disputes involving the exclusion or exemption of such property from assessment or from the tax rolls pursuant to the Constitution of the United States or the constitution or laws of this state, or of the taxable situs of such property. The appeal shall be as a trial de novo in the manner prescribed for nonjury civil proceedings.

4. Upon the timely filing of an appeal as provided in this section, the state tax commission or the clerk of the circuit court, as applicable, shall send to the county collector to whom the taxes on the property involved would be due, a notice that an appeal has been filed, which notice shall contain the name and address of the taxpayer filing the appeal.

5. If the circuit court, after review of the appeal, finds that the appeal is not a proper subject for the appeal to the circuit court as provided in subsection 3 of this section, it shall transfer the appeal to the state tax commission for

Senator Flotron offered SA 1:

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amend Senate Bill No. 506, Page 2, Section A, Line 29, by inserting immediately after said line the following:

"400.2-401. Each provision of this article with regard to the rights, obligations and remedies of the seller, the buyer, purchasers or other third parties applies irrespective of title to the goods except where the provision refers to such title. Insofar as situations are not covered by the other provisions of this article and matters concerning title become material the following rules apply:

(1) Title to goods cannot pass under a contract for sale prior to their identification to the contract (section 400.2-501), and unless otherwise explicitly agreed the buyer acquires by their identification a special property as limited by this chapter. Any retention or reservation by the seller of the title (property) in goods shipped or delivered to the buyer is limited in effect to a reservation of a security interest. Subject to these provisions and to the provisions of the article on secured transactions (article 9), title and/or ownership to goods passes from the seller to the buyer in any manner and on any conditions explicitly agreed on by the parties.

(2) Unless otherwise explicitly agreed title passes to the buyer at the time and place at which the seller completes his performance with reference to the physical delivery of the goods, despite any reservation of a security interest and even though a document of title is to be delivered at a different time or place; and in particular and despite any reservation of a security interest by the bill of lading

(a) if the contract requires or authorizes the seller to send the goods to the buyer but does not require him to deliver them at destination, title passes to the buyer at the time and place of shipment; but

(b) if the contract requires delivery at destination, title passes on tender there.

(3) Unless otherwise explicitly agreed where delivery is to be made without moving the goods,

(a) if the seller is to deliver a document of title, title passes at the time when and the place where he delivers such documents; or

(b) if the goods are at the time of contracting already identified and no documents are to be delivered, title passes at the time and place of contracting.

(4) A rejection or other refusal by the buyer to receive or retain the goods, whether or not justified, or a justified revocation of acceptance reverts title to the goods in the seller. Such reversion occurs by operation of law and is not a "sale".

400.2-402. (1) Except as provided in subsections (2) and (3), right of unsecured creditors of the seller with respect to goods which have been identified to a contract for sale are subject to the buyer's rights to recover the goods under this article (sections 400.2-502 and 400.2-716).

(2) A creditor of the seller may treat a sale or an identification of goods to a contract for sale as void if as against him a retention of possession by the seller is fraudulent under any rule of law of the state where the goods are situated, except that retention of possession in good faith and current course of trade by a merchant-seller for a commercially reasonable time after a sale or identification is not fraudulent.

(3) Nothing in this article shall be deemed to impair the rights of creditors of the seller

(a) under the provisions of the article on secured transactions (article 9); or

(b) where identification to the contract or delivery is made not in current course of trade but in satisfaction of or as security for a preexisting claim for money, security or the like and is made under circumstances which under any rule of law of the state where the goods are situated would apart from this article constitute the transaction a fraudulent transfer or voidable preference."; and

WHEREAS, 401(k) plans allows an employee to choose whether a certain amount is to be paid in cash or paid by his or her employer on the employee's behalf to a qualified trust; and

WHEREAS, the income earned by funds in the 401(k) plans are exempt from income tax until the participant has amounts distributed to him or her, usually after retirement; and

WHEREAS, a 10% excise tax is levied on withdrawals from such tax-advantaged retirement plans made before the participant has attained the age of 59 and one-half years, unless one of several exceptions apply; and

WHEREAS, these exceptions include events such as when a participant dies or becomes disabled but does not fully cover situations involving the death or disability of a participant's spouse; and

WHEREAS, such events involve a reduction in income contributed to the household and a possibly dramatic increase in household expenses in the case of disability; and

WHEREAS, expanding the exceptions to the tax penalty for early withdrawals in case of the death or disability of a participant's spouse would offer the participant cheaper access to his or her savings at an important time;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Missouri Senate, Ninetieth General Assembly, that the Senate recommends to the Congress of the United States that the Internal Revenue Code be amended to permit penalty-free withdrawals from 401(k) plans under circumstances of the death or disability of a participant's spouse; and

Amend Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bills Nos. 328, 87, 100 and 55, Page 2, Section 565.024, Line 10, by inserting immediately after the end of said line the following:

"570.010. As used in this chapter:

(1) "Adulterated" means varying from the standard of composition or quality prescribed by statute or lawfully promulgated administrative regulations of this state lawfully filed, or if none, as set by commercial usage;

(2) "Appropriate" means to take, obtain, use, transfer, conceal or retain possession of;

(3) "Coercion" means a threat, however communicated:

(a) To commit any crime; or

(b) To inflict physical injury in the future on the person threatened or another; or

(c) To accuse any person of any crime; or

(d) To expose any person to hatred, contempt or ridicule; or

(e) To harm the credit or business repute of any person; or

(f) To take or withhold action as a public servant, or to cause a public servant to take or withhold action; or

(g) To inflict any other harm which would not benefit the actor. A threat of accusation, lawsuit or other invocation of official action is not coercion if the property sought to be obtained by virtue of such threat was honestly claimed as restitution or indemnification for harm done in the circumstances to which the accusation, exposure, lawsuit or other official action relates, or as compensation for property or lawful service. The defendant shall have the burden of injecting the issue of justification as to any threat;

(4) "Credit device" means a writing, number or other device purporting to evidence an undertaking to pay for property or services delivered or rendered to or upon the order of a designated person or bearer;

(5) "Dealer" means a person in the business of buying and selling goods;

(6) "Debit device" means a card, code, number or other device, other than a check, draft or similar paper instrument, by the use of which a person may initiate an electronic fund transfer, including but not limited to devices that enable electronic transfers of benefits to public assistance recipients;

(7) "Deceit" means purposely making a representation which is false and which the actor does not believe to be true and upon which the victim relies, as to a matter of fact, law, value, intention or other state of mind. The term "deceit" does not, however, include falsity as to matters having no pecuniary significance, or puffing by statements unlikely to deceive ordinary persons in the group addressed. Deception as to the actor's intention to perform a promise shall not be inferred from the fact alone that he did not subsequently perform the promise;

[(7)] (8) "Deprive" means:

(a) To withhold property from the owner permanently; or

(b) To restore property only upon payment of reward or other compensation; or

(c) To use or dispose of property in a manner that makes recovery of the property by the owner unlikely;

[(8)] (9) "Misabeled" means varying from the standard of truth or disclosure in labeling prescribed by statute or lawfully promulgated administrative regulations of this state lawfully filed, or if none, as set by commercial usage; or represented as being another person's product, though otherwise accurately labeled as to quality and quantity;

[(9)] (10) "Of another" property or services is that "of another" if any natural person, corporation, partnership, association, governmental subdivision or instrumentality, other than the actor, has a possessory or proprietary interest therein, except that property shall not be deemed property of another who has only a security interest therein, even if legal title is in the creditor pursuant to a conditional sales contract or other security arrangement;

[(10)] (11) "Property" means anything of value, whether real or personal, tangible or intangible, in possession or in action, and shall include but not be limited to the evidence of a debt actually executed but not delivered or issued as a valid instrument;

[(11)] (12) "Receiving" means acquiring possession, control or title or lending on the security of the property;

[(12)] (13) "Services" includes transportation, telephone, electricity, gas, water, or other public service, accommodation in hotels, restaurants or elsewhere, admission to exhibitions and use of vehicles;

[(13)] (14) "Writing" includes printing, any other method of recording information, money, coins, negotiable instruments, tokens, stamps, seals, credit cards, badges, trademarks and any other symbols of value, right, privilege or identification.

570.130. 1. A person commits the crime of fraudulent use of a credit device or debit device if [he] the person uses a credit device or debit device for the purpose of obtaining services or property, knowing that:

- (1) The device is stolen, fictitious or forged; or
- (2) The device has been revoked or canceled; or
- (3) For any other reason his use of the device is unauthorized.

2. Fraudulent use of a credit device or debit device is a class A misdemeanor unless the value of the property or services obtained or sought to be obtained within any thirty-day period is one hundred fifty dollars or more, in which case fraudulent use of a credit device or debit device is a class D felony."; and

Further amend said bill, by amending the titling and enacting clauses accordingly.

Senator Rohrbach moved that the above amendment be adopted, which motion prevailed.

Senator Ehlmann offered SA 2, which was read:

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 2

So we thank You, our God, who never fails and who is available to us and with us each day to help and guide us through the maze of bills before us, approving those that are in keeping with Your will for us and rejecting those that are not. 2. Each petition circulator shall supply the following information to the secretary of state's office:

(4) Mailing address, if different;

When notarizing a circulator's signature, a notary public shall sign his or her official signature and affix his or her official seal to the affidavit only if the circulator personally appears before the notary and subscribes and swears to the affidavit in his or her presence.

5. Any circulator who falsely swears to a circulator's affidavit knowing it to be false is guilty of a class A misdemeanor punishable, notwithstanding the provisions of section 560.021, RSMo, to the contrary, for a term of imprisonment not to exceed one year in the county jail or a fine not to exceed ten thousand dollars or both.

116.090. 1. Any person who signs any name other than his own to any petition, or who knowingly signs his name more than once for the same measure for the same election, or who knows he is not at the time of signing or circulating the same a Missouri registered voter and a resident of this state, shall, upon conviction thereof, be guilty of a class A misdemeanor punishable, notwithstanding the provisions of section 560.021, RSMo, to the contrary, for a term of imprisonment not to exceed one year in the county jail or a fine not to exceed ten thousand dollars or both.

2. Any person who knowingly accepts or offers money or anything of value to another person in exchange for a signature on a petition is guilty of a class A misdemeanor punishable, notwithstanding the provisions of section 560.021, RSMo, to the contrary, for a term of imprisonment not to exceed one year in the county jail or a fine not to exceed ten thousand dollars or both.

116.100. The secretary of state shall not accept any referendum petition submitted later than 5:00 p.m. on the final day for filing referendum petitions. The secretary of state shall not accept any initiative petition submitted later than 5:00 p.m. on the final day for filing initiative petitions. All pages shall be submitted at one time. When an initiative or referendum petition is submitted to the secretary of state, the signature pages shall be in order and numbered sequentially by county, except in counties that include multiple congressional districts, the signatures may be ordered and numbered using an alternate numbering scheme approved in writing by the secretary of state prior to submission of the petition. Any petition that is not submitted in accordance with this section, disregarding clerical and merely technical errors, shall be rejected as insufficient. After verifying the count of signature pages, the secretary of state shall issue a receipt indicating the number of pages presented from each county. 116.120. 1. When an initiative or referendum petition is submitted to the secretary of state, he or she shall examine the petition to determine whether it complies with the Constitution of Missouri and with this chapter. Signatures on petition pages that have been collected by any person who is not properly registered with the secretary of state as a circulator shall not be counted as valid. Signatures on petition pages that do not have the official ballot title affixed to the page shall not be counted as valid. The secretary of state may verify the signatures on the petition by use of random sampling. The random sample of signatures to be verified shall be drawn in such a manner that every signature properly filed with the secretary of state shall be given an equal opportunity to be included in the sample. The process for establishing the random sample and determining the statistically valid result shall be established by the secretary of state. Such a random sampling shall include an examination of five percent of the signatures.

2. If the random sample verification establishes that the number of valid signatures is less than ninety percent of the number of qualified voters needed to find the petition sufficient in a congressional district, the petition shall be deemed to have failed to qualify in that district. In finding a petition insufficient, the secretary of state does not need to verify all congressional districts on each petition submitted if verification of only one or more districts establishes the petition as insufficient.

3. If the random sample verification establishes that the number of valid signatures total more than one hundred ten percent of the number of qualified voters needed to find the petition sufficient in a congressional district, the petition shall be deemed to qualify in that district.

4. If the random sampling shows the number of valid signatures within a congressional district is within ninety to one hundred ten percent of the number of signatures of qualified voters needed to declare the petition sufficient in that district, the secretary of state shall order the examination and verification of each signature filed.

116.130. 1. The secretary of state may send copies of petition pages to election authorities to verify that the persons whose names are listed as signers to the petition are registered voters. Such verification may either be of each signature or by random sampling as provided in section 116.120, as the secretary shall direct. If copies of the petition pages are sent to an election authority for verification, such copies shall be sent [not later than two weeks after the petition is submitted if the election authority is to verify each signature and not later than three weeks after the petition is submitted if verification is to occur by random sampling as provided in section 116.120] pursuant to the following schedule:

- (1) Not later than two weeks after one petition is filed in the office of the secretary of state;
- (2) Not later than three weeks after two petitions are filed in the office of the secretary of state;
- (3) Not later than four weeks after three or more petitions are filed in the office of the secretary of state.

Each election authority shall check the signatures against voter registration records in the election authority's jurisdiction, but the election authority shall count as valid only the signatures of persons registered as voters in the county named in the circulator's affidavit. Signatures shall not be counted as valid if they have been struck through or crossed out.

2. If the election authority is requested to verify the petition by random sampling, such verification [must] shall be completed and certified not later than two weeks from the date that the election authority receives the petition from the secretary of state. If the election authority is to verify each signature, such verification must be completed, certified and delivered to the secretary of state by 5:00 p.m. on the [eleventh] last Tuesday in July prior to the election. In the event of complete verification of signatures after a failed random sample, full verification shall be completed, certified and delivered to the secretary of state by 5:00 p.m. on the last Tuesday in July or by 5:00 p.m. on the Friday of the fifth week after receipt of the signatures by the local election authority, whichever is later.

[2.] 3. If the election authority or the secretary of state determines that the congressional district number written after the signature of any voter is not the congressional district of which the voter is a resident, the election authority or the secretary of state shall correct the congressional district number on the petition page. Failure of a voter to give the voter's correct congressional district number shall not by itself be grounds for not counting the voter's signature.

[3.] 4. The election authority shall return the copies of the petition pages to the secretary of state with annotations regarding any invalid or questionable signatures which the election authority has been asked to check by the secretary of state. The election authority shall verify the number of pages received for that county, and also certify the total number of valid signatures of voters from each congressional district which the election authority has been asked to check by the secretary of state.

[4.] 5. The secretary of state is authorized to adopt rules to ensure uniform, complete, and accurate checking of petition signatures either by actual count or random sampling. No rule or portion of a rule promulgated [under the authority of] pursuant to this section shall become effective unless it has been promulgated pursuant to the provisions of section 536.024, RSMo.

[5.] 6. After a period of three years from the time of submission of the petitions to the secretary of state, the secretary of state, if the secretary determines that retention of such petitions is no longer necessary, may destroy such petitions [or return them to the person submitting them upon written request from such person. Returned petitions shall be stamped by the secretary of state to indicate that such petitions are no longer valid].

116.150. 1. After the secretary of state makes [his] a determination on the sufficiency of the petition and if [he] the secretary of state finds it sufficient, [he] the secretary of state shall issue a certificate setting forth that the petition contains a sufficient number of valid signatures to comply with the Constitution of Missouri and with this chapter.

2. The secretary of state shall issue a certificate only for a petition approved pursuant to section 116.332. If the secretary of state finds the petition insufficient, [he] the secretary of state shall issue a certificate stating the reason for the insufficiency.

3. The secretary of state shall issue a certificate pursuant to this section not later than 5:00 p.m. on the thirteenth Tuesday prior to the general election or two weeks after the date the election authority certifies the results of a petition verification pursuant to subsection 2 of section 116.130, whichever is later."; and

A new series of letters shall be started after each general election. In the event a measure is labeled prior to, but not voted on at the next succeeding general election, the letter assigned to such measure shall not be reassigned until after such measure has been voted on by the people."; and

The treasurer of the school district shall open an account for each fund specified in this section, and all moneys received from the county school fund and all moneys derived from taxation for teachers' wages shall be placed to the credit of the teachers' fund. All tuition fees, state moneys received under sections 162.975, RSMo, and 163.031, RSMo, and all other moneys received from the state except as herein provided shall be placed to the credit of the teachers' and incidental funds at the discretion of the district board of education. The portion of state aid received by the district pursuant to section 163.031, RSMo, based upon the portion of the tax rate in the debt service or capital projects [funds] fund, respectively, which is included in the operating levy for school purposes pursuant to section 163.011, RSMo, shall be placed to the credit of the debt service fund or capital projects fund, respectively. Money received from other districts for transportation, and money derived from taxation for incidental expenses shall be credited to the incidental fund. Money apportioned for free textbooks shall be credited to the free textbook fund. All money derived from taxation or received from any other source for the erection of buildings or additions thereto and the remodeling or reconstruction of buildings and the furnishing thereof, for the payment of lease-purchase obligations, for the purchase of real estate, or from sale of real estate, schoolhouses or other buildings of any kind, or school furniture, from insurance, from sale of bonds other than refunding bonds shall be placed to the credit of the capital projects fund. All moneys derived from the sale or lease of sites, buildings, facilities, furnishings and equipment by a school district as authorized under section 177.088, RSMo, shall be credited to the capital projects fund. Money derived from taxation for the retirement of bonds and the payment of interest thereon shall be credited to the debt service fund which shall be maintained as a separate bank account. Receipts from delinquent taxes shall be allocated to the several funds on the same basis as receipts from current taxes, except that where the previous years' obligations of the district would be affected by such distribution, the delinquent taxes shall be distributed according to the tax levies made for the years in which the obligations were incurred. All refunds received shall be placed to the credit of the fund from which the original expenditures were made. Money donated to the school districts shall be placed to the credit of the fund where it can be expended to meet the purpose for which it was donated and accepted. Money received from any other source whatsoever shall be placed to the credit of the fund or funds designated by the board.

2. The school board may expend from the incidental fund the sum that is necessary for the ordinary repairs of school property and an amount not to exceed the sum of expenditures for classroom instructional capital outlay, as defined by the department of elementary and secondary education by rule, in state-approved area vocational-technical schools and .06 dollars per one hundred dollars equalized assessed valuation multiplied by the guaranteed tax base for the second preceding year multiplied by the number of resident and nonresident eligible pupils educated in the district for the second preceding year for classroom instructional capital outlay, including but not limited to payments authorized pursuant to section 177.088, RSMo. If a balance remains in the free textbook fund after books are furnished to pupils as provided in section 170.051, RSMo, it shall be transferred to the teachers' fund. The board may transfer the portion of the balance remaining in the incidental fund to the teachers' fund that is necessary for the total payment of all contracted obligations to teachers. If a balance remains in the debt service fund, after the total outstanding indebtedness for which the fund was levied is paid, the board may transfer the unexpended balance to the capital projects fund. If a balance remains in the bond proceeds after completion of the project for which the bonds were issued, the balance shall be transferred from the incidental or capital projects fund to the debt service fund. After making all placements of interest otherwise provided by law, a school district may transfer from the capital projects fund to the incidental fund the interest earned from undesignated balances in the capital projects fund. A school district may borrow from one of the following funds: teachers' fund, incidental fund or capital projects fund, as necessary to meet obligations in another of those funds; provided that the full amount is repaid to the lending fund within the same fiscal year.

(1) The district shall provide written notice to the state board of education, no later than June first of the first school year following the school year of the unlawful transfer, stating the district's intention to comply with the provisions of subdivisions (1) to (4) of this subsection and have state aid deducted for that unlawful transfer over a five-year period;

(2) On or before September first of the second school year following the school year of the unlawful transfer, the district shall approve an increase to the district's operating levy for school purposes to the greater of: two dollars and seventy-five cents per one hundred dollars assessed valuation or the levy which produces an increase in total state and local revenues, as determined by the department, in comparison to the first school year following the school year of the unlawful transfer which is equal to or greater than the amount of state aid to be deducted pursuant to this subsection each school year for such unlawful transfer, provided that increases required pursuant to this subdivision for subsequent unlawful transfers shall be made in comparison to the latter tax rate described in this subdivision;

(3) During each school year after the school year in which the operating levy is increased pursuant to subdivision (2) of this subsection and in which state aid is deducted pursuant to subdivisions (1) to (4) of this subsection, the district shall maintain an operating levy for school purposes which produces total state and local revenues for the district which are no less than the total state and local revenues produced by the levy required pursuant to subdivision (2) of this subsection;

(4) During each school year state aid is deducted pursuant to subdivisions (1) to (4) of this subsection except for the 1998-99 school year, the district shall maintain compliance with the requirements of section 165.016 without any recourse to waivers or base year adjustments and without the option to demonstrate compliance based upon the district's fund balances; and

(5) If, in any school year state aid is deducted pursuant to subdivisions (1) to (4) of this subsection, the district fails to comply with any requirement of subdivisions (1) to (4) of this subsection, the full, remaining amount of state aid to be deducted pursuant to this subsection shall be deducted from the district's state aid payments by the department during such school year.

9. On or before June 30, 1999, a school district may transfer to the capital projects fund from the balances of the teachers' and incidental funds any amount, but only to the extent that the amount transferred is equal to or less than the amount that the teachers' and incidental [fund] funds' unrestricted balances on June 30, 1995, exceeded eight percent of expenditures from the teachers' and incidental funds for the year ending June 30, 1995.

(5) Other provisions of section 165.016 to the contrary notwithstanding, the transfer of an amount of funds from either the teachers' or incidental funds to the capital projects fund pursuant to subdivision (3) of this subsection shall not be considered an expenditure from the teachers' or incidental fund for the purpose of determining compliance with the provisions of subsections 1 and 2 of section 165.016.

11. In addition to other transfers authorized under subsections 1 to 9 of this section, a district may transfer from the teachers' and incidental funds to the capital projects fund the amount necessary to repay costs of one or more guaranteed energy savings performance contracts to renovate buildings in the school district; provided that the contract is only for energy conservation measures, as defined in section 640.651, RSMo, and provided that the contract specifies that no payment or total of payments shall be required from the school district until at least an equal total amount of energy and energy-related operating savings and payments from the vendor pursuant to the contract have been realized by the school district."; and

In case of a suspension by the superintendent for more than ten school days, the pupil, the pupil's parents or others having such pupil's custodial care may appeal the decision of the superintendent to the board or to a committee of board members appointed by the president of the board which shall have full authority to act in lieu of the board. Any suspension by a principal shall be immediately reported to the superintendent who may revoke the suspension at any time. In event of an appeal to the board, the superintendent shall promptly transmit to it a full report in writing of the facts relating to the suspension, the action taken by the superintendent and the reasons therefor and the board, upon request, shall grant a hearing to the appealing party to be conducted as provided in section 167.161.

2. No pupil shall be suspended unless:

(3) The pupil shall be given an opportunity to present such pupil's version of the incident; and

(4) In the event of a suspension for more than ten school days, where the pupil gives notice that such pupil wishes to appeal the suspension to the board, the suspension shall be stayed until the board renders its decision, unless in the judgment of the superintendent of schools, or of the district superintendent, the pupil's presence poses a continuing danger to persons or property or an ongoing threat of disrupting the academic process, in which case the pupil may be immediately removed from school, and the notice and hearing shall follow as soon as practicable.

3. No school board shall readmit or enroll a pupil properly suspended for more than ten consecutive school days for an act of school violence as defined in subsection 2 of section 160.261, RSMo, or suspended or expelled pursuant to this section or section 167.161 or otherwise permit such pupil to attend school without first holding a conference to review the conduct that resulted in the expulsion or suspension and any remedial actions needed to prevent any future occurrences of such or related conduct. The conference shall include the appropriate school officials including any teacher employed in that district directly involved with the conduct that resulted in the suspension or expulsion, the pupil, the parent or guardian of the pupil or any agency having legal jurisdiction, care, custody or control of the pupil. The school board shall notify in writing the parents or guardians and all other parties of the time, place, and agenda of any such conference. Failure of any party to attend this conference shall not preclude holding the conference. Notwithstanding any provision of this subsection to the contrary, no pupil shall be readmitted or enrolled to a regular program of instruction if:

- (1) Such pupil has been convicted of; or
- (2) An indictment or information has been filed alleging that the pupil has committed one of the acts enumerated in subdivision (4) of this subsection to which there has been no final judgment; or
- (3) A petition has been filed pursuant to section 211.091, RSMo, alleging that the pupil has committed one of the acts enumerated in subdivision (4) of this subsection to which there has been no final judgment; or

 - (h) Arson in the first degree under section 569.040, RSMo;
 - (i) Kidnapping, when classified as a class A felony under section 565.110, RSMo. Nothing in this subsection shall prohibit the readmittance or enrollment of any pupil if a petition has been dismissed, or when a pupil has been acquitted or adjudicated not to have committed any of the above acts. This subsection shall not apply to a student with a disability, as identified under state eligibility criteria, who is convicted or adjudicated guilty as a result of an action related to the student's disability. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to prohibit a school district which provides an alternative education program from enrolling a pupil in an alternative education program if the district determines such enrollment is appropriate.

4. If a pupil is attempting to enroll in a school district during a suspension or expulsion from another school district, a conference with the superintendent or the superintendent's designee may be held at the request of the parent, court appointed legal guardian, someone acting as a parent as defined by rule in the case of a special education student, or the pupil to consider if the conduct of the pupil would have resulted in a suspension or expulsion in the district in which the pupil is enrolling. Upon a determination by the superintendent or the superintendent's designee that such conduct would have resulted in a suspension or expulsion in the district in which the pupil is enrolling or attempting to enroll, the school district may make such suspension or expulsion from another district effective in the district in which the pupil is enrolling or attempting to enroll. Upon a determination by the superintendent or the superintendent's designee that such conduct would not have resulted in a suspension or expulsion in the district in which the student is enrolling or attempting to enroll, the school district shall not make such suspension or expulsion effective in its district in which the student is enrolling or attempting to enroll."; and

HOUSE COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE FOR

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 3

Relating to Joint Committee on Legislative Term Limits.

WHEREAS, at the general election of 1992, seventy-five percent of Missouri voters adopted a measure to limit the terms of members of the Missouri General Assembly; and

WHEREAS, all legislators elected after 1992 are limited to a maximum of eight years, or four terms, in the Missouri House of Representatives, and eight years, or two terms, in the Missouri Senate; and

WHEREAS, while the merits of legislative term limits can and will be debated by numerous citizens and interested parties, there is no question: that term limits are part of the Missouri Constitution; that this law has already shortened the terms of some Missouri legislators; and that these limits will produce substantial repercussions on state government in the foreseeable future; and

WHEREAS, it would be a responsible and prudent action to prepare for the impending impact of legislative term limits; and

WHEREAS, it should be determined whether term limits will affect the balance of power between the legislative, executive and judicial branches, and if so, what measures should be taken to preserve the strength of the legislative branch; and

WHEREAS, it should also be determined whether term limits are likely to lead to an increased influence for state government employees and governmental consultants, or lobbyists, and, if so, if any preparations should be made to counteract this increased influence; and

WHEREAS, because of term limits, the citizen-members of the Missouri General Assembly will be expected to assume leadership positions and committee chairmanships at a faster rate than is currently expected even though they will have less time to study issues or learn the legislative process; and

WHEREAS, the potential impact on urban, suburban and rural issues and representation should be studied; and

WHEREAS, it could be of great assistance in preparing for the impact of term limits if ideas, recommendations and information could be garnered from present and former legislators, political scientists, interested citizens and scholars who have previously studied this issue and are familiar with term limit ramifications in other states:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the Missouri House of Representatives of the Ninetieth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, that a Joint Committee on Legislative Term Limits be created to study the likely effects of term limits and to make recommendations on how best to prepare for the impact of term limits; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the committee be comprised of ten members, five members to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives and five members to be appointed by the President Pro Tem of the Senate, with no more than three House members or three Senate members being from the same political party and with at least two House members and two Senate members first being elected in or prior to November 1994 and at least one House member and one Senate member first being elected after November 1994; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the committee be authorized to hold hearings and investigations as it deems advisable, and that the staffs of House Research, Senate Research and the Committee on Legislative Research provide any technical or clerical assistance requested by the committee and the members of the committee shall receive reimbursement for their actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties for the committee; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the committee report its recommendations and finds to the Missouri General Assembly by January 1, 2000, and that the authority of such committee shall terminate on December 31, 2000; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the President Pro Tem of the Senate.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

WHEREAS, the program is a safe and healthy way for these individuals to get protein in their diet, because all participating deer processors must be licensed by the Department of Conservation and inspected by the United States Department of Agriculture; and

Further amend said bill, Page 6, Section 142.875, Line 27, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"142.896. 1. Distributors shall be required to post a bond of not less than three months' total liability based on the number of gallons handled as estimated by the director, with a maximum amount of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars for gasoline and diesel fuel separately.

2. The tax on the motor fuel imported shall not be considered part of potential liability for calculation of the bond required of a distributor's license if the nonexempt motor fuels meet the following conditions:

(1) All of the motor fuel is subject to one or more tax precollection agreements to remit the motor fuel tax of this state to the supplier or permissive supplier as trustee with respect to the imports, as provided under section 142.839; and

(2) The director has determined that all border states have adopted terminal reporting requirements adequate for the mutual enforcement of this chapter.

3. If a distributor qualifies under subsection 3 of section 142.851 and was not required to have a bond posted under the predecessor act, then such distributor may elect to either post the bond as set out in this subsection or participate in a cash bond as set out below. The cash bond shall be held by the director in a "Motor Fuel Bond Trust Fund", which is hereby created, for the benefit of the participating distributors. The bond shall be used solely for the purpose of preventing a loss to the state for motor fuel taxes, surcharges and fees not paid. No distributor shall have any claim or rights against the fund as a separate person. Contributions to the fund will be made at the rate [of one-fourth of one percent of the prevailing motor fuel tax rate until such fund equals one-fourth of one percent of the prior year's motor fuel tax collections] as defined in regulations set by the director of the department of revenue. Contributions will be remitted by the participating distributors through the suppliers under the same procedures as set out for remitting of motor fuel taxes set out in this chapter. The director shall notify the suppliers of which distributors have elected to participate, when the contributions are required and when the fund has reached its maximum. At that time no further contributions will be required until the fund has been depleted to [one-eighth of one percent of prior year's motor fuel tax collections] the minimum amount established by regulation, at which time the director shall notify the distributors and suppliers to resume contributions at the [above] rate as defined by regulation. In the event the director has made a demand for payment from a participating distributor in this fund, and such demand has not been satisfied within ninety days, the director shall use the cash bond to satisfy the delinquency. Such action shall not affect the liability of the distributor for the tax or prevent the director from taking other actions permitted by this chapter.

4. After the expiration of three consecutive years of satisfactory tax compliance, as determined by the director, a licensed distributor will be eligible to participate in the pool bond in lieu of furnishing any other type of bond. The licensed distributor will be required to pay into the pool bond for a minimum of one year regardless whether the pool bond has reached its maximum or not.

5. The director shall compile a monthly report of all activities regarding the motor fuel bond fund including the name and license number of all licensees who have had a claim made against them, and the report shall be made available to pool members.
6. A distributor is required to remit the tax due on the last day of the succeeding month and file reports prescribed by the director.
7. Each licensed distributor shall report such information as required by the director including, but not limited to imports of motor fuel, exports of motor fuel, blending of motor fuels, all receipts of motor fuel, all receipts and sales of dyed fuel, all receipts and sales of tax- free undyed kerosene and the transporting of motor fuel or blend stocks for or on behalf of others.
8. The report required by this section shall be due on the last day of each month with respect to information required for the next preceding calendar month."; and

Further amend said bill, Page 7, Section 142.908, Line 13, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"142.955. The director or any person designated by the director may, in the enforcement of this chapter, conduct investigations he or she deems necessary.

142.957. The director may prescribe the forms upon which reports are made to the director and other forms and information the director deems necessary in the enforcement of this chapter, and may require periodic submission of information from any person dealing in, transporting or storing motor fuel.

142.960. A person who violates any provision of this chapter, including, but not limited to, the failure to obtain required licenses or permits, or fails to keep records as prescribed herein, or neglects, fails or refuses to allow the director, his or her authorized agents or the Missouri highway patrol to inspect an item of equipment or records, or who fails, neglects or refuses to pay the tax due is guilty of a class A misdemeanor. Journal of the Senate

FIFTY-FOURTH DAY--THURSDAY, APRIL 15, 1999

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Pro Tem Quick in the Chair.

The Reverend Carl R. Gauck offered the following prayer:

Let us Pray: Gracious and Merciful Father: Help us to recognize that there is nothing we can give someone that will show our love more than the gift of our time and attention. Help each of us to make this a priority in our lives for our family and then to those we serve, behind only our time with You, Oh God. Help us keep our word to our children and grandchildren so that they may know that in a world with increasingly glib promises, our word was true so that someday they will one day "rise up and call us blessed." This we ask in Your Holy Name. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

RESOLUTIONS

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 589

WHEREAS, the members of the Missouri Senate have learned that Friday, April 16th, will mark the Fourth Annual Kansas City Cattle Drive sponsored by Mike Murphy, founder of the drive and premier KCMO Radio talk show personality and also the founder of Kansas City's fabulous St. Patrick's Day Parade; and

WHEREAS, the purpose of the Cattle Drive is to allow Kansas Citians to participate in a full day of festivities celebrating their city's proud heritage of cattle and great steaks; and

WHEREAS, the day will also be marked by the first annual "Take Back the Kansas City Strip" cook-off featuring recognized chefs from Kansas City to prepare the best Kansas City Strips ever, after which local celebrities, including our colleague, the current Senator from the 10th District, Senator Harry Wiggins, will be on hand to taste-test the culinary masterpieces and award prizes for the finest steak recipe presentation; and

WHEREAS, the winning Kansas City Strip will then be flown by Derrick Thomas, All Star player for the Kansas City Chiefs, to New York City to be presented to Mayor Rudolph Guiliani, as evidence that the people of Kansas City are tired and irritated that New York continues to claim the long time traditional Kansas City Strip Steak, which is falsely renamed, on restaurant menus as the New York Strip, and that the people of Kansas City intend to take back their beloved Kansas City Strip permanently with the name it earned and deserves;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the members of the Missouri Senate, pause in their deliberations to congratulate Mike Murphy on his fourth annual cattle drive, wish the people of Kansas City good luck in their laudable efforts to return the Kansas City Strip to its traditional name for Kansas City and Missouri, and wish Mike Murphy many long years continued good health and happiness; and
